[1] Includes proprietary companies. Increase in investment over a period of years cannot be obtained accurately by subtraction of 1 year's investment from that of another owing to reorganization, sale or abandonment, reclassification, etc.

[2] Amortization of defense projects included subsequent to 1940. [3] Excludes returns for lessor companies.

[4] Investment originally published is increased by $170,000,000, estimated reserve for accrued depreciation, to make figures comparable with those of other years.

[5] Figure not comparable on account of Federal control accounting requirements.

[6] Excludes returns for class II and class III companies.

No. 606.—Steam-Railway Accidents—Number of Persons Killed and Injured, by Status: 1891 to 1949

[For various reasons, including fact that returns were required under different acts, statistics are not strictly comparable. Prior to 1921, train accidents were those causing damage to railway property in excess of $150 or any damage and a resulting casualty. From 1921 to 1947 they were considered as such when damage exceeded $150 with or without a casualty; for 1948, accidents causing damages in excess of $250, with or without a casualty, were classified as train accidents; and, beginning January 1, 1949, the damage incurred was raised to $275, or more. Where damage was less than the amounts specified and there was a reportable casualty it was classified as a train-service accident. Figures for years 1911–15 include industrial and other nontrain accidents to employees only, and for years 1908–10 exclude switching and terminal roads. Otherwise, data cover all reportable accidents, including those due to suicide, mental derangement, and attempting to escape custody. See also Historical Statistics, series K 84–93]

No. 609.—Electric Railways—Summary: 1890 to 1937

[The census of street railways, which was first taken in 1890, and which has been taken at quinquennial interval through 1937 beginning with the inquiry for 1902, covers (1) all street railways, without regard to kind of motiv power, and (2) all interurban railways using other than steam as motive power. The nonelectric railroads in cluded are those operated principally by cable and gasoline engines. Operations of electrified divisions of steam railway companies are not included. Figures in this table do not include data for motorbus and trolley-bus operations of electric street railways. (For motorbus and trolley-bus statistics from census reports, see source)]

[1] Excludes data for 22 companies, operating on a part-year basis. These companies reported 36,810,221 passengers; 9,108,009 car-miles; 1,042,866 car-hours; $2,388,295, operating revenue; and $2,412,010, operating expense.

[2] Includes certain companies in Pennsylvania which maintained separate organizations, though controlled through stock ownership by other companies. For 1912 these companies were treated as merged and not included in the number reported.

[3] Includes small mileage of track lying outside United States.

[4] Data incomplete. Some of the companies engaged in both light-and-power and electric-railway operations were unable to report separately the values of plant and equipment assignable to their railway activities.

[5] Number reported as of June 30, for 1890, 1922, 1927, and 1932; for 1902, average for the year; for 1912, as of Sept 16. Figures for 1937 represent an average of numbers reported on June 30 and Dec. 31.

[6] Includes 334 trolley-bus operators.

[7] Includes 29,721,000 trolley-bus passengers.

[8] Includes auxiliary operating revenues of $8,905,000 for 1927 and $91,242,000 for 1922; auxiliary expenses, $7,822,00 for 1927, and $49,232,000 for 1922. Data for operating revenues and operating expenses of auxiliary operations excluded so far as possible for earlier years.

[1] Amortization represents a very small part of this total.
[2] Does not include Federal or State income taxes.
[3] Withdrawals of sole proprietors and partners.
[4] Does not include drivers of equipment engaged by these carriers to perform "purchased transportation."
[5] Includes collection and delivery employees as follows: 1944, 21,111, compensation, $48,778,000; 1945, 21,444, compensation, $51,441,000; 1946, 24,630, compensation, $63,353,000; 1947, 29,090, compensation, $83,370,000. Beginning 1948 collection and delivery employees included with drivers and helpers.
[6] Includes duplications on account of tonnage received from connecting motor carriers.
[7] Basic figures include expenses of operating vehicles in intercity and local services, these expenses are not separable. Comparisons of revenue and expense per intercity vehicle-mile are therefore subject to qualification.

[1] Class I airports are for private owners of smaller type aircraft (Sub I airports are those below Class I standards), Class II, private owners of largest type aircraft and feeder transport aircraft; Class III, present day transport aircraft, Classes IV and over, largest aircraft now in use and those planned for immediate future.

[2] Airport type definitions: Commercial—Public use and public services, privately owned and operated. Municipal—Public use and public services, municipally owned and/or operated. CAA Intermediate—Public emergency use, no services, CAA operated. Military—Public restricted, military operated. All others—(a) Public emergency use only, no public services, privately owned for personal use; (b) Public emergency use only, no public services, Government-owned Forest Service, etc.

22. Waterways, Water Traffic, and Shipping

Data in this section cover the following areas unless otherwise indicated: From Corps of Engineers, Department of the Army, continental U. S. and territories and possessions; from Bureau of Census, and Bureau of Customs, United States customs area which includes Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico, and, from Jan. 1, 1935, through Dec. 31, 1939, Virgin Islands; from United States Maritime Commission and War Shipping Administration, continental United States.

Units of measurement.—"Cargo tonnage" represents weight of cargo in long tons (2,240 pounds) or short tons (2,000 pounds). All other tonnage figures refer to capacity of vessels. The terms gross and net tonnage refer to space measurement, 100 cubic feet being called 1 ton. Gross tonnage is the capacity of the entire space within the frames and the ceiling of the hull, together with those closed-in spaces above deck available for cargo, stores, passengers or crew, with certain minor exemptions. Net or registered tonnage is what remains after deducting from the gross tonnage the space occupied by the propelling machinery, fuel, crew quarters, master's cabin, and navigation spaces. It represents substantially space available for cargo and passengers. The net tonnage capacity of a ship recorded as "entered with cargo" may bear little relation to actual weight of cargo. Dead weight tonnage is the weight in long tons required to depress a vessel from light water line (that is, with only the machinery and equipment on board) to load line. It is therefore the weight of the cargo, fuel, etc. which a vessel is designed to carry with safety. Displacement tonnage (naval vessels) has reference to weight of the vessel itself with its normal equipment, fuel, etc.

Types of vessel shipments.—Shipments by dry cargo vessels include shipments of all types of watercraft except tanker vessels, and shipments by tanker vessels include all types of cargo both liquid and dry carried by tanker vessels.

Vessel entrances and clearances.—The tables on vessel entrances and clearances show the number and net registered tonnage of American and foreign dry cargo and tanker vessels with cargo and in ballast entering and clearing the United States customs area in the foreign trade and indicate the customs districts at which these vessels first entered and from which they last cleared. All types of watercraft engaged in the foreign trade which are required to make formal entrance and clearance under United States customs regulations are included in the statistics. Army and Navy vessels entering or clearing without commercial cargo are not included in the figures. The tons shown in tables 642–647 are net tons of 100 cubic feet carrying capacity of the vessels (as defined in Part 16 of Title 46, "Code of Federal Regulations, Measurements of Vessels") and do not represent the actual weight of cargo carried.

A vessel is reported as entered at the first port in the United States at which entry is made, regardless of whether any cargo is unladen at that port. Vessels touching at a United States port in distress, or for other temporary causes without discharging cargo are not included in the figures.

A vessel is reported as cleared from the last port where outward cargo is completed or where the vessel cleared in ballast. Vessels touching at a United States port in distress, or for other temporary causes without discharging cargo are not included in the figures.

Historical statistics.—In this section, tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, series K 132–145") provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, 1789–1945. In that historical supplement to the Statistical Abstract, statistics are carried back year by year as far as possible. See also the historical appendix of the present issue of the Abstract for specific titles of series and the earliest year shown in the supplement.

No. 622.—Commerce of Principal United States Ocean Ports: 1949

[In thousands of short tons of 2,000 pounds. In addition to commerce here shown, many ports have (1) commerce with ports on internal rivers and canals; (2) purely local port traffic, including, for New York and San Francisco, what is called intraport traffic between parts of a harbor for which separate statistics are maintained. These forms of traffic, although aggregate tonnage is large, are of much less economic importance than foreign and coastwise traffic]

[1] Canal boats and barges included with sailing prior to 1868.

[2] Decrease of tonnage arises principally from registered tonnage having been corrected in 1818, 1829, and by omitting all vessels with registers granted prior to 1815, which were presumed to have been lost at sea, captur etc.

[3] Including Puerto Rico and Virgin Islands.

[4] Including Hawaii and Alaska.

No. 647.—Vessels Entered and Cleared at Seaports in Foreign Trade—Net Registered Tonnage, by Nationality of Vessel: 1921 to 1947

[In thousands of net tons. Includes only traffic by sea and to and from foreign countries. The large trade wi Canada on the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence is handled primarily by vessels of the United States and the British (Canadian) flag. British (Canadian) flag vessels predominate in this trade. See tables 644 and 6 in which the columns for northern border represent trade with Quebec and Ontario]

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, series F 56–59") provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, 1789–1945. In that historical supplement to the Statistical Abstract, statistics are carried back year by year as far as possible.

No. 648.—Irrigation Enterprises—Summary: 1910 to 1940

[Data are for the 17 Western States and Arkansas and Louisiana. Tables 648, 650, and 651 relate to irrigation enterprises of all types, including those operated by individual farmers. They are based on reports of management of enterprises. An enterprise is defined as "an independent irrigation establishment owning or operating works for supplying water to agricultural land." See also Historical Statistics, series F 56–59]

No. 654.—Drainage on Farms and Drainage Enterprises—Summary: 192 1930, and 1940

[Statistics for drainage on farms in first part of this table were collected from individual farmers, while those drainage enterprises were obtained from a special canvass of organized drainage enterprises. A farm may ha artificial drainage without being included in any organized enterprise; conversely, an organized enterprise m include a farm on which there is no artificial drainage, because the enterprise facilitates removal of water fr that farm. Drainage enterprises comprise public corporations and local improvement districts establis under State laws relating to drainage, commercial enterprises draining land for sale, other organizations enga in extensive land drainage work, and tracts of 500 acres or more drained by individual farm owners. Ent prises may include timbered and other unimproved land not yet in farms. Data as to drainage on farms w not collected in the census of 1940. Canvass of drainage enterprises did not include New England States, N. N. J., or Pa.; Del. and Md. were included only in 1940; no enterprises were found in Ala. or W. Va. before 19 and none in Va. in 1920. See also Historical Statistics, series F 52-55]

No. 659.—Growth of Conservation Districts, by Fiscal Years, to June 1950

[Basic soil conservation district legislation has now been enacted in all of the 48 States and 4 of the Territories a possessions. Each of these laws contains an effective date after which soil conservation districts could be ganized by local farmers and operators. A soil conservation district is a political subdivision of State whic determined by petition and referendum of farmers residing in area, and approved by State Soil Conservati Committee. Districts, in most cases, have authority to solicit Federal, State, county, and private assista in carrying on their soil and water conservation program within the area. On request of local governing body each soil conservation district, Department of Agriculture provides technical and other assistance to distric through its several agencies. Such memorandums form basis on which any departmental assistance is provid to district for use on farms and ranches within district. After basic memorandum with Department has b signed, Soil Conservation Service signs a supplemental memorandum with each district governing body requ ing assistance, to cover activities which Soil Conservation Service will help district to carry out]

[1] For specific procedure on organization of soil conservation districts, see respective State soil conservation district law. By provision of most State district laws, State soil conservation committee has responsibility for organization of districts. Local district governing bodies administer affairs of each individual district.

[2] Soil Conservation Service furnishes technical and other assistance to practically all districts that have entered into memorandums of understanding with Department of Agriculture.

[3] Includes complete farm conservation plans being carried out by farmers in cooperation with districts, as planned. Cancellations caused by death, change in ownership, or mutual consent have been deducted. Data on plans and treated area included only work done through farmer-district cooperative agreements since Aug. 1937 with assistance of Soil Conservation Service.

[4] Includes Imperial irrigation district.

[5] Includes 23 State cooperative grazing districts.

[6] Includes 7 wind-erosion districts.

24. Agriculture—General Statistics

Statistics on agriculture are for the most part prepared by the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce, which conducts the Census of Agriculture and by the Department of Agriculture which prepares current annual estimates.

Beginning with 1840 a Census of Agriculture has been taken every 10 years in conjunction with the Decennial Census of Population. In 1925, 1935, and 1945 a mid-decennial Census of Agriculture has also been taken. Information at each census has been obtained by a personal canvass of individual farms by census enumerators. The first Census of Agriculture, however, was limited in scope. It included such items as an inventory of the principal classes of domestic animals, the production of wool, the value of poultry, the value of products of the dairy, and the production of the principal crops. The number of farms and the acreage and value of farm land were first included in the Census of 1850. In 1880 information was first secured as to the tenure under which the farms were operated. A detailed classification of farm land according to use was first obtained in 1925; in earlier censuses, farm land was classified only as improved land, woodland, and other unimproved land.

A farm as defined by the Bureau of the Census is all the land on which some agricultural operations are performed by one person, either by his own labor alone or with the assistance of members of his household, or hired employees. A tract of less than 3 acres is not considered a farm unless its agricultural products for the year covered were valued at $250 or more. Agricultural operations consist of the production of crops or plants, vines or trees (excluding forestry operations), or of the keeping, grazing, or feeding of livestock for animal products, animal increase, or value enhancement. Included as farms are such agricultural enterprises as nurseries, greenhouses, hothouses, fur farms, mushroom cellars, apiaries, and cranberry bogs. Excluded are fish farms, fish hatcheries, oyster farms, frog farms, kennels, game preserves, parks, and the like. When a landowner has one or more tenants, renters, croppers, or managers, the land operated by each is considered a farm for census purposes. Thus for a plantation each cropper and tenant operation is considered a separate farm even though the entire plantation may be handled essentially as a single farm enterprise.

The land in farms includes considerable areas of land not actually under cultivation or used for pasture or grazing, but all such land must have been under the control of the operator and considered a part of his farm. Land used for grazing or pasture that was neither owned nor leased by the farm operator was not included under land in farms. Thus vast acreages of land used for grazing, such as national forests, Taylor grazing land, State lands, or other public lands, and some railroad and other privately owned lands, are not included as land in farms even though used for agricultural purposes.

Annual agricultural statistics of a wide variety have been issued currently by the United States Department of Agriculture for over 80 years—the first being as of May 1, 1863. There are now 41 field offices—1 in practically every State—which act as clearinghouses for information furnished by voluntary reporters. Information from the field offices is sent to Washington where reports covering State and national data are issued by the Crop Reporting Board of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Statistics compiled by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics on crops, livestock and livestock products, agricultural prices, farm employment, and other related subjects are based mainly on data obtained through mail questionnaires. The basic information is obtained from nearly three-quarters of a million reporters, located in every agricultural county in the United States, who report on one or more items during a year. These reporters, mostly farmers, report for their own and nearby farms on some 80 crops and scores of other items pertaining to agricultural production and farm family living.

Cash income is the cash receipts from farm marketings and represents the quantities of crops, livestock, and livestock products sold by farmers multiplied by the prices received per unit of production at the local market. Gross farm income includes Government payments, value of farm products consumed on the farm, rental value of farm homes, as well as cash receipts from farm marketings.

These general notes on agriculture apply also to section 25, Agriculture—Production and Related Subjects, which covers farm crops, foodstuffs, farm animals, animal products, and related subjects.

Historical statistics.—In this section, tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, series E 1 and E 3–4") provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, 1789–1945. In that historical supplement to the Statistical Abstract, statistics are carried back year by year as far as possible. See also the historical appendix of the present issue of the Abstract for specific titles of series and the earliest year shown in the supplement.

[1] Beginning 1930, farm population comprises all persons living on farms without regard to occupation, except that 1945 figures exclude persons in dwelling units rented to others than those engaged in agricultural work. For earlier years, farm laborers and their families living outside limits of any incorporated place were included.
[2] Estimated. [3] Census of Agriculture, adjusted to census—BAE level. [4] Not available.
[5] Preliminary. Not strictly comparable with earlier years owing to change in definitions.
[6] Includes land and buildings, machinery and equipment, crops held for sale, and livestock and poultry.
[7] As of Mar. 1. [8] Year ending Mar. 15. [9] Includes contracts to purchase (but not options).
[10] Includes loss of title by default of contract, and surrender of title or transfers to avoid foreclosures.
[11] Includes inheritance and gift transfers; sales in settlement of estates; and miscellaneous and unclassified sales.

[2] Acres, value, and debt for part owners represent owned portion only; similar data for rented portion included with data for tenants and managers. Therefore, average debt and equity per farm are not shown for "tenants and managers" group. Cropper operations are included in the "tenants and managers" group.

[1] Preliminary.
[2] Beginning 1945 includes taxes on gasoline used in farm tractors.
[3] For 1925–30 includes companies with more than 65 percent of their insurance on farm property; for later years 50 percent. About 88 percent of their total insurance is on farm property, for both periods.
[4] Number of companies for which data were obtained; perhaps not entirely complete for any year.
[5] Excess of assets over liabilities. Most of farmers' mutuals are assessment companies and as such are not required to set up unearned premium reserves. Data not compiled prior to 1935.

[1] Represents marketing season during which farm products of a specified year are moved into channels of trade. Marketing seasons overlap.

[2] For years since about 1935, comprises members, contract members, and shareholders, but excludes patrons not in these categories.

[3] Includes value of commodities sold or purchased for patrons and charges for rendering other essential services either in marketing or purchasing. Most duplication in value arising from intra-association transactions has been eliminated.

No. 693.—Farms—Number and Percent Distribution, by Type: 1940 and 1945

[For 1940, farms were classified by type on basis of major (single largest) source of income in 1939. For 1945 (value refers to calendar year 1944), farms with value of products used by farm household exceeding total value of all farm products sold were classified as subsistence farms. All others were classified by type of product representing more than 50 percent of total sales; if no one source of income represented more than 50 percent of total sales, the farm was classified as "General"]

25. Agriculture—Production and Related Subjects

The data in this section are, for the most part, from the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce, and from various bureaus in the United States Department of Agriculture. In general, statistics for agriculture census years are from the Bureau of the Census. Estimates for intervening years, and adjustments, where necessary, to a January 1 basis are from the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, United States Department of Agriculture.

The most extensive of the current survey data are gathered by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics from questionnaires handled in cooperation with the Post Office Department through its rural mail carriers. These surveys obtain livestock data in June and December and crop acreage data in October. For each survey the rural carrier distributes 10 to 20 cards to farmers on his route. The farmer is asked to complete his questionnaire for his own farm and return the card to his mail box.

In the data prepared by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, estimates of crop acreage and production for the census years are set up currently on available information. Later, if necessary, these data are revised to a level based largely on the census enumerations. The estimates for intercensal years are based on sample data obtained each year from individual reporters. This information is supplemented by other data, such as State assessors' enumerations of agricultural information, crop meter frontage measurements, reports of carlot shipments, warehouse receipts, local surveys, personal observations by field statisticians as well as reports from other sources having a knowledge of farming, agricultural production, and processing. Cotton acreage and production are also based on sample data and, in large measure, on ginning information gathered by the Bureau of the Census. Usually, all known sources of information pertaining to agriculture in general, from the farm to the consumer's household are tapped for basic facts used in compiling current statistics on agriculture.

For each decade from 1840 through 1900, the Census of Agriculture was taken as of June 1. The four decennial censuses since then have been taken as of April 15, 1910; January 1, 1920; April 1, 1930; and April 1, 1940. The 1925, 1935, and 1945 quinquennial Censuses of Agriculture were taken as of January 1. Comparison of inventory numbers of livestock from census to census is seriously affected by a change in the date of enumeration. From January to April there are material changes in numbers on hand in most parts of the country due to births, marketings, farm slaughter, etc. In an effort to obtain as much comparability as possible the 3 censuses taken in April either excluded recently born animals from the enumeration or provided for their enumeration in a separate age group. Volume II of the 1945 Census of Agriculture Reports shows a complete history of the enumeration of livestock and presents a discussion of the comparability from census to census.

For most kinds of domestic livestock, there are comparatively short, cyclic fluctuations in numbers, even though the trend over a long period of time may be definitely in one direction. A single census may be taken at a time when such a cycle is at the peak or at the trough of numbers and hence gives no true indication of the long-time trend.

Annual inventory numbers of livestock on farms prepared by the Department o Agriculture together with estimates of livestock, dairy, and poultry production ar based on information furnished by individual farmers, supplemented by State asses sors' data in a number of States, and by such records as brand inspections, rail an truck shipments, and inspected slaughter. The level for these inventories is based i large part on census enumerations for years when census data are available.

Information on prices received by farmers for products they sell and prices paid fo articles they buy for production and family living are obtained from about 35,00 farmers, local merchants, and handlers of agricultural products. Season averag prices received by farmers are calculated by weighting midmonth prices by monthl sales during the crop marketing season, beginning with the first month when a parti ular crop harvest begins.

The index numbers of prices received and of prices paid by farmers are based o current midmonth prices for these commodities. For information concerning method of construction of the indexes, see Supplement No. 1 to the January 1950 issue Agricultural Prices, issued by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. The ratio the index of prices received to the index of prices paid by farmers measures the monthl variation in the average per unit exchange value of farm products in terms of commod ties and services bought by farmers. See tables 681 and 682, p. 580, for indexes prices received and paid by farmers.

Data on imports and exports are now compiled by the Department of Commerce Bureau of the Census, and are published in the annual report, Foreign Commerce an Navigation of the United States. (See section 31, Foreign Commerce.) The offici trade statistics based on the fiscal year are usually preferable to data presented on calendar year basis, for use in comparing imports and exports with crop productio since, for most crops, they coincide more nearly with the crop year.

Historical statistics.—In this section, tabular headnotes (as "See also Historic Statistics, series E 72") provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statisti of the United States, 1789–1945. In that historical supplement to the Statistic Abstract, statistics are carried back year by year as far as possible. See also th historical appendix of the present issue of the Abstract for specific titles of series an the earliest year shown in the supplement.

[1] Measures calendar-year production of all crops and pasture consumed by all livestock, and the product added in conversion of feed and pasture into livestock and livestock products for human use and into farm-produced horse and mule power.

[2] Estimated value, at 1935–39 average prices, of all feed (including commercial feeds) and pasture consumed by each class of livestock subtracted from total value, at 1935–39 average prices, of livestock and livestock products.

[3] Includes miscellaneous crops not included in groups shown.

[5] Total crop production, minus quantities retained for feed or seed and quantities not harvested or lost.

[1] Excludes 14,503,000 acres of corn cut for fodder, valued at $206,935,000, probably duplicated in acreage of corn harvested for grain. 3,107,000 acres of mature crops hogged off (corn, velvetbeans, soybeans, peanuts, sweetpotatoes, etc.) also excluded. [2a] See table 709.

[2] Total acreage of crops for which figures are available. [3] Not available, or data not comparable.

[4] Irish and sweet potatoes included with "field crops," not with "vegetables." Acreage of vegetables represents acres of vegetables harvested for sale only; acreage in farm gardens not available. Value includes both vegetables for home use and for sale.

[5] Excludes acreage of horticultural specialties (not available for 1944); value includes horticultural specialties.

[6] Excludes acreage for alfalfa, clover, and grass seeds harvested, probably duplicated in hay acreage.

[7] Only strawberries reported in small fruits; other small fruits included in field crops.

[8] Vegetables for sale. [9] Farm garden vegetables for home use only

[10] Acreage in fruit orchards, vineyards, and planted nut trees not secured prior to 1930.

[11] Excludes acreage for horticultural specialties.

[7] Irish potatoes and sweetpotatoes included with "field crops," not with "vegetables."
[1] Excludes sweet corn, popcorn, "Egyptian corn," kafir, and milo maize.
[8] Figures for 1944 are not fully comparable with those for 1939. 1944 totals are for States for which a separate ry was carried on schedule. For further discussion, see 1945 Census of Agriculture, Vol. II.
[3] Cut hay included with small grains cut for hay.
[9] Excludes flax and wheat mixture.
[10] Clover seed except sweet clover.
Represents acreage of vegetables harvested for sale only; acreage in farm gardens not available.
Acreage of horticultural specialties not available for 1944 and therefore excluded for 1939; value includes horti- ural specialties.
Includes blackberries and dewberries, blueberries, boysenberries, loganberries, youngberries, raspberries, and berries.

No. 710.—Principal Crops—Acreage, Production, and Value: 1866 to 1950

[Tons are of 2,000 pounds. For weights of units of measurement for principal products, see Appendix II. Approximate weights of units of measurement for other products are as follows: Number of pounds to a bushel—sweetpotatoes, 55; sorghums for grain, 56; clover seed, 60. Number of pounds to a barrel of cranberries, 100. Prices and yields for periods are weighted averages except for cotton and cottonseed, which are simple averages of prices and yields for individual years. Acreage, production, and yield of all crops revised to census data. See also Historical Statistics, series E 181-230, for acreage harvested, production, and price data for corn, wheat, oats, barley, flaxseed, potatoes, sweetpotatoes, cotton, cottonseed, soybeans, and hay]

[1] Values are based on season average or Dec. 1 prices. See notes on "Price" column.

[2] Received by farmers. Beginning with 1908 for potatoes and cotton, 1909 for sweetpotatoes, and cottonseed, prices are season average prices. Figures for prior years are Dec. 1 prices. 1933, 1934, 1937, 1938, and 1940 through 1950, for cotton crop, and 1949 and 1950 for cottonseed season average prices include an allowance for unredeemed loans at average loan value.

[3] Average for 8 years. [4] Average for 6 years. [5] Average for 7 years. [6] Average for 4 years.

[7] Includes following quantities not harvested on account of market conditions (1,000 bushels): 1928, 7,462; 1931, 66; 1932, 2,175; 1939, 1,240; and 1943, 440. Price and value apply only to the harvested portion of the crop.

[8] Includes 1,504,000 bushels unharvested but purchased by the Government under price-support program.

[9] Production is in running bales prior to 1899; 500-pound gross weight bales thereafter.

[10] Data for 1909 and 1910.

[11] State production figures, which conform with census annual ginning enumeration, with allowance for crops ginned after March 31 and for crop losses in storage, rounded to thousands and added for United States totals. Cotton grown in Baja, California, ginned in California from 1913 to 1924, has been excluded.

[12] Data for 1909 and 1910.

[1] Value based on season average or Dec. 1 prices. See notes on "Price" column.
[2] Received by farmers. Prices as of Dec. 1 except as noted.
[3] Tame hay only, prior to 1911.
[4] Prices are season average prices beginning 1911; Dec. 1 prices theretofore.
[5] Prices are season average prices beginning 1919; Dec. 1 prices theretofore.
[6] Prior to 1942, data are for 7 States. Production figures include fruit consumed on farms, sold locally, us used for manufacturing, as well as that shipped; they exclude fruit which ripened on trees but was destroyed prio to picking. Figures relate to crop produced from bloom of year shown. In California, picking season usuall extends from about Oct. 1 to Dec. 31 of following year. In other States, season begins about Oct. 1 and ends i early summer.
[7] Prior to 1942, price of sweet sorghums for forage and hay.
[8] Net content of boxes varies. In California and Arizona, approximate average is 77 lbs.; in other states, 9 lbs. Production includes following quantities donated to charity, unharvested, and/or eliminated on account o economic conditions (1,000 boxes): 1933, 977; 1934, 1,395; 1935, 614; 1936, 1,023; 1937, 1,204; 1938, 2,949; 1939, 1,29 1940, 1,322; 1941, 762; 1942, 654, 1943, 830; 1944, 1,771, 1945, 731, 1946, 2,639; 1947, 1,563; 1948, 879. Price and value ar computed on remaining crop.
[9] Season average returns to growers. Price and value apply to entire crop exclusive of that portion donated t charity, unharvested, and/or eliminated on account of market conditions. (See note 32.) Prices are equivalen packing-house-door returns for all methods of sale and are weighted by production to obtain U. S. averages.

No. 722.—Cotton and Cottonseed—Acreage, Production, and Value, by States: 1936 to 1950

[Cotton production excludes linters. Figures for production in some States differ slightly from census figures on ginnings due to ginnings in 1 State of cotton grown in another. Where figures are not shown for individual States, separate data are not available for entire period but are included in United States totals. Values shown are for marketing season or crop year and should not be confused with calendar year income. Yields and prices for periods are simple averages of figures for individual years. Tons are of 2,000 pounds. See also Historical Statistics, series E 217-224, for U. S. totals for acres harvested, production, and price]

[1] Acreage for harvest for fresh market, including any partially harvested or not harvested because of low prices or other economic factors, plus acreage harvested for processing.
[2] Processing production shelled basis plus fresh market production in the shell. Equivalent shelled production: 1939–48 average, 50,700 tons, 1949, 102,550 tons, 1950, 89,400 tons.
[3] Include some quantities not marketed and excluded in computing value.
[4] Mainly for canning, but includes fresh market crop in New Jersey, New York, and Pennsylvania.
[5] Peppermint and spearmint.
[6] Processing production shelled basis plus fresh market production in the shell. Equivalent shelled production: 1939–48 average, 425,800 tons; 1949, 365,580 tons; 1950, 449,440 tons.

[1] Growth of 9 months in Louisiana and 12 months in Florida. Sugar campaign usually not ended before February in Louisiana and April in Florida, following season of growth of cane.
[2] Calculated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration method. (S. R. Series 1, No. 1.)
[3] Based on the ratio of 100 pounds of raw sugar to 92.46 pounds of refined sugar.
[4] Not including sirup production. See table 733.
[5] Includes price support payments of $1.45 per ton in 1945. Excludes Government payments under Sugar Act of $1.10 per ton in 1945, $1.15 in 1946, $1.17 in 1947, $1.10 in 1948, $1.13 in 1949, and approximately $1.20 in 195

No. 748.—Meats and Lard—Production, Foreign Trade, and Consumption by Kind: 1941 to 1949

[All quantities, except per capita, in millions of pounds of carcass weight equivalent. Edible byproducts a excluded. Production of pork excluding lard comprises weight of dressed hog carcass less head bones and le all carcass fat rendered into lard. Lard production represents rendered weights of lard, and lard exports repr sent rendered lard, including neutral lard. Federally inspected production omits production in Hawaii an Virgin Islands from 1940 to date. Uninspected production is made up of farm and retail slaughter and all whol sale slaughter that is not Federally inspected. Commercial exports include commercial shipments to ter tories; they do not include USDA exports and shipments for Lend-Lease, UNRRA or other claimants, nor d they include shipments for military civilian feeding or voluntary relief feeding. Civilian consumption is ca culated from production and foreign trade, with an allowance for changes in stocks, and with deduction military takings beginning 1941 and of deliveries to USDA from 1941 to 1947. See also Historical Statistic series E 135, 142, 146, and 150 for total production of beef, veal, lamb and mutton, and pork]

[1] Price received by farmers.

[2] Imports for consumption beginning 1934, general imports prior thereto. Apparel wool for all years include item "not finer than 40's" both free and dutiable. Carpet wool includes only Domskoi, Smyrna, East Indian Chinese, and similar wool without merino or English blood.

[3] For the years 1930–35 the item "not finer than 40's" has been deducted from carpet wool totals reported b Department of Commerce and added to apparel wool, thus making entire series comparable.

[4] Excludes 222,222,220 lbs. in 1942; 275,476,308 lbs. in 1943; 2,725,929 lbs. in 1944; 5,372,698 lbs. in 1945; and 14,8 lbs. in 1946, imported free of duty as an act of international courtesy. Wool so imported consisted almost entirel of wool stored in this country for the British Government, and later re-exported. This wool was not availabl to domestic mills.

[5] Includes hair of angora goat, alpaca, and other like animals.

[6] Production, minus exports, plus imports; stocks not taken into consideration.

[7] Preliminary.

[8] As reported by Bureau of Census. Includes wool stored in bonded warehouses prior to payment of duty Excludes wool on farms for all years, and wool stored for British Government for re-export, 1945–46.

[9] As of April 1.

26. Forests and Forest Products

The Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce, and the Forest Service, Department of Agriculture, are the principal Government agencies engaged in the collection and publication of statistics of forest land, forest industries, and forest products. The Forest Service, through its forest survey activities, makes an inventory of the forest resource and measures rates of forest growth and drain. A number of reports for surveyed areas have been published. A report based on a reappraisal of the Nation's forest situation made during 1945 and 1946 was published in 1948. Statistics from this report are shown in tables 765–768. Other publications of the Forest Service include data on stumpage and log prices, lumber consumption and distribution, lumber used in manufacture, and fire statistics. The Statistical Supplement to the Annual Report of the Chief of the Forest Service carries statistics of the administration of the national forests.

The Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce, publishes information on forest industries and products in reports of the Census of Manufactures, in addition to annual reports of the Census of Forest Products. The Bureau of the Census also publishes statistics of foreign trade in forest products. Information on the domestic movement of forest products is reported by the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Association of American Railways.

The Bureau of Agricultural and Industrial Chemistry of the Department of Agriculture publishes annual reports on the production of turpentine and rosin.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics of the Department of Labor publishes statistics of wholesale lumber prices monthly and annually.

The Timber Products and Pulp and Paper series of the Industry Reports, published by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce in cooperation with other government agencies, carry forest products statistics which have been developed to meet current needs for information.

A number of forest products trade associations and trade journals collect and publish statistics of forest products, production, markets, shipments, inventories, etc.

The completeness and reliability of published statistics of forests and forest products vary considerably. The data for forest land area and stand are, of course, much more reliable for areas which have been surveyed than for those areas which have not been covered. Forest fire statistics for federal lands are considered much better than for private lands, though too much reliance should not be placed in any estimates of fire damage or causes of fires.

In the field of forest products, data for lumber production and other manufactured products such as veneer and plywood, pulp and paper, cooperage, naval stores, etc. are much more complete than for the primary forest products such as poles and piling, fuelwood, and fence posts. The data for lumber production are subject to certain limitations because of incomplete coverage. Information for pulp and paper, and plywood, on the other hand, is believed to have practically complete coverage. Statistics relating to average value of lumber sawed may be subject to some special limitations due to under representation of small mills.

Historical statistics.—In this section, tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, series F 145–150") provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, 1789–1945. In that historical supplement to the Statistical Abstract, statistics are carried back year by year as far as possible. See also the historical appendix of the present issue of the Abstract for specific titles of series and the earliest year shown in the supplement.

[1] In continental U. S.; includes National Forests, Interior, Soil Conservation Service, TVA, Public Domain etc.

[2] In continental U. S. and Hawaii. Data reported to Forest Service by its field offices, cooperating agencies other Government bureaus, and similar sources. Statistics on unprotected areas based on State estimates only.

[3] Prior to 1939 forest area included total area needing protection. Beginning with 1939, this area included only forest area needing protection, which accounts for reduction in areas between 1938 and 1939.

No. 779.—Lumber Production, by Kind of Wood, and Average Mill Value: 1869 to 1949

[Data not strictly comparable because of incomplete coverage of numerous small mills in the East prior to 1942 and exclusion of mills cutting less than 50 M ft. b. m. for all years prior to 1942 except 1869–1909 and 1919. Exclusion of under 50 M class of mills would affect totals less than 1 percent as reflected by 1942 survey. Data for 1943–46 and for 1949 include estimates based on sample surveys. Small production quantities are subject to large sampling errors. See also Historical Statistics, series F 109–111 and F 120–122 for similar but not identical figures from Dept. of Agri. Forest Service]

27. Fisheries

The Fish and Wildlife Service, Branch of Commercial Fisheries in the Department of the Interior, conducts annual surveys for various statistical information on the fishery industries. These data are published in greater detail in publications of the Service and include data on the volume of the catch of individual species of fish and shellfish and their value, employment in the fisheries, quantity of gear operated, the number of fishing and transporting craft employed in the capture and transporting of fishery products, employment in wholesale and manufacturing establishments, and volume and value of the production of manufactured fishery products. In addition to the basic statistics on employment, yield, and the production of manufactured fishery products for individual States and various geographical sections, there are included in reports data on imports and exports of fishery commodities; landings by fishing craft at Boston, Gloucester, New Bedford, and on Cape Cod, Massachusetts; at Maine ports; and Seattle, Washington; shad fisheries of the Hudson and Potomac Rivers; alewife fishery in the Potomac; seed oyster fisheries; a review of the Pacific Coast halibut fishery; a statement on whaling operations by United States firms; data on the sponge fishery; and lists of firms producing various manufactured fishery products. These data are summarized in the Statistical Abstract. The more detailed information may be obtained from the Fish and Wildlife Service, Washington 25, D. C.

Historical statistics.—In this section, tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, series F 166–192") provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, 1789–1945. In that historical supplement to the Statistical Abstract, statistics are carried back year by year as far as possible. See also the historical appendix of the present issue of the Abstract for specific titles of series and the earliest year shown in the supplement.

28. Mining and Mineral Products

This section summarizes the principal statistics relating to the mineral industries and mineral products. It includes not only the crude and prepared minerals associated with the mineral extraction, but also some of the finished products manufactured from minerals. Statistics relating to the manufacture of mineral products are also included in section 30, Manufactures. Additional information relating to the mineral industries and mineral products appear also in other sections of this Abstract such as the section on labor force, prices, foreign commerce, and others.

Most of the statistics in this section are from the Bureau of Mines and the Bureau of the Census, with additional material from other Government agencies such as the Bureau of Labor Statistics, Bureau of the Mint, and the Interstate Commerce Commission and from non-Government sources such as the Engineering and Mining Journal, American Metal Market, and the Iron Age. Data in this section cover the following areas unless otherwise indicated: Bureau of Mines production statistics, continental United States, and, for leading products, outlying areas; Bureau of Census statistics, continental United States; foreign trade statistics, the United States customs area, which includes Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and for 1935 to 1939, the Virgin Islands.

Mineral statistics, with principal emphasis on commodity detail, have been collected annually or at more frequent intervals by the United States Geological Survey or by the Bureau of Mines since 1880. The principal statistics have been published annually through 1931 in Mineral Resources of the United States and thereafter in the Minerals Yearbook. Data available from Bureau of Mines publications include quantities and values of minerals produced, sold or used by producers, or shipped; quantities of minerals stocked; crude materials treated and prepared minerals recovered, by method of treatment; and mineral content of materials produced. Data on production are sometimes available by method of extraction. Shipments or sales of products are classified in many cases by grade, by end use, or by State of destination. The Bureau of Mines also collects and publishes separate data on employment and accidents. The number of workers and man-days or man-hours worked, as measures of exposure to accidents, are tabulated only for broad industry groups.

Censuses of mineral industries have been taken approximately every 10 years since 1840. The statistics are collected and published in the Census volumes in such a manner as to relate the statistics on the production of the various minerals as nearly as possible to data on employment, principal expenses, fuels and power consumed, and other information available only for each establishment as a whole. Each establishment is classified according to its most valuable product. The data are also collected and compiled in a manner to permit integration with other Census statistics such as for manufactures and wholesale and retail trade. Data are available on the number of operations, quantity and value of products, number of persons engaged (sometimes by department or type of work), principal expenses (wages, salaries, cost of supplies and materials, fuel, purchased electric energy, and work done on contract), horsepower of power equipment, and sometimes other items, such as man-hours, cost of buildings, machinery and equipment, number and type of power-loading machines, cost of drilling oil and gas wells, development work, and capital invested. Commodity statistics on many of the manufactured mineral products are also collected by the Bureau of the Census at monthly, quarterly, or annual intervals.

To avoid misinterpretation, it should be noted that the Census of Mineral Industries statistics in table 808 relate to operations primarily engaged in extracting minerals and in such primary mineral-preparation activities (crushing, screening, washing, flotation, etc.) as are needed to render the minerals marketable. Many of the statistics collected by the Bureau of Mines represent products of operations beyond the limits covered by the Census of Mineral Industries. Value totals based on Bureau of Mines publications, as shown in tables 804 and 806, are not comparable with the Census value totals, as shown in table 808. Census values represent crude or prepared minerals f. o. b. the mine, well, or mineral-preparation plant. Bureau of Mines value totals include for most nonferrous metals the value of ingot metal rather than the value of ores and concentrates and the value of such manufactured products as cement and lime rather than the value of the limestone used in producing them.

Historical statistics.—In this section, tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, series G 1–5") provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, 1789–1945. In that historical supplement to the Statistical Abstract, statistics are carried back year by year as far as possible. See also the historical appendix of the present issue of the Abstract for specific titles of series and the earliest year shown in the supplement.

[Old basis. See table 806]

No. 804.—Mineral Products of the United States—Value, for Metallic and Nonmetallic: 1881 to 1949

[All figures in millions of dollars. Principal differences between old basis and new basis are as follows: (1) U. S. totals on the new basis represent data on primary products, exclusively from domestic mines, in order to provide figures on mine output (or output of concentrating mills at or near the mines); on the old basis, totals in some instances include secondary products and mineral products made from foreign material. (2) Totals on the new basis represent continental U. S. only; on the old basis, production in Alaska, Hawaii, Philippine Islands (through 1945) and Puerto Rico was included, but no data were collected for other U. S. possessions now shown in table 807. Data for years prior to 1947 not yet available on new basis. See also Historical Statistics, series G 1-5]

No. 806.—Mineral Production in Continental United States: 1947, 1948, and 1949

[Data represent production as measured by mine shipments or mine sales (including consumption by producers), except that fuels and the following additional minerals are strictly production: Gypsum, iodine, magnesite, pyrites, antimony, bauxite, and mercury. Excludes uranium ores. See headnote to table 804. See also Historical Statistics, series G 1–6, 13–18, and 43–180]

No. 806.—Mineral Production in Continental United States: 1947, 1948, and 1949

[Data represent production as measured by mine shipments or mine sales (including consumption by producers), except that fuels and the following additional minerals are strictly production: Gypsum, iodine, magnesite, pyrites, antimony, bauxite, and mercury. Excludes uranium ores. See headnote to table 804. See also Historical Statistics, series G 1–5, 13–18, and 43–180]

[1] Includes small quantity of anthracite mined in States other than Pennsylvania.
[2] Preliminary.
[3] Excludes sharpening stones, included with "Other nonmetallic minerals."
[4] Weight not recorded.
[5] Valued at refined state of production.
[6] Excludes clays sold or used for cement as follows: 1947, 5,336,492 short tons, $2,987,424; 1948, 6,362,459 tons, $1,320,266; 1949, 6,676,134 tons, $4,572,797.
[7] Value included with "Other nonmetallic minerals."
[8] Excludes production from Wyoming, value for which is included with "Other nonmetallic minerals."
[9] Excludes abrasive stone, bituminous limestone, bituminous sandstone, and ground soapstone, all included elsewhere in table. Also excludes limestone for cement and lime.
[10] Comprises andalusite, aplite, brucite, diatomite, dumortierite (1949), epsom salts from serpentine (1947) and epsomite (1949), iodine, perlite, sharpening stones, sodium carbonate (Wyoming 1948), and minerals indicated by footnote 7.
[11] Value included with "Other metals."
[12] Less than ½ ton.
[13] Comprises magnesium chloride for magnesium metal, zirconium concentrates, and minerals indicated by footnote 11.

No. 808.—Mineral Industries—Summary for the United States: 1919, 1929, and 1939

[Statistics cover producing operations only. In general, those for 1939 cover only those operations (or concerns producing crude petroleum, natural gas, and natural gasoline, and rendering oil- and gas-field services) for which total value of all products, reported principal expenses, cost of buildings, machinery, and equipment during year, or cost of drilling and equipping wells during year amounted to $2,500 or more. For bituminous coal and lignite an output criterion of 1,000 tons of coal was substituted for value of all products. Statistics for common sand and gravel industry exclude data for operations that produce less than 15,000 tons of sand and gravel unless reported principal expenses or cost of buildings, machinery, and equipment during year amounted to $15,000 or more. Statistics for 1929 cover, in general, only those "enterprises" for which total value of all products or cost of development work amounted to $2,500 or more. Bituminous coal and lignite mines that produced less than 1,000 tons of coal and common sand and gravel operations that produced less than 25,000 tons of sand and gravel, were excluded. Statistics for 1919 exclude data for "enterprises" for which value of all products was less than $500 or cost of development work was less than $5,000. Noncommercial production of stone and sand and gravel obtained from mines or quarries operated by governmental agencies, public utilities, or by construction companies or contractors producing wholly for their own use or on contract for governmental agencies is excluded for all years. For summary data from 1939 Census of Mineral Industries by type of mineral industry, see 1949 Statistical Abstract, table 854]

[1] Excludes statistics for common clay and shale, crude petroleum and natural gas, greensand, natural gasoline, peat, potash, and rock salt industries, for comparability with 1929.

[2] Excludes common clay and shale, common sand and gravel, glass-sand, foundry-sand, natural sodium compounds, peat, potash, and rock salt industries, and limestone mines and quarries operated in conjunction with cement and lime plants for comparability with 1919.

[3] Includes value of crude minerals produced, value added during year by preparation processes, receipts for services performed for other concerns, and value of electric energy generated and sold.

[4] Represents statistics for skilled and unskilled employees who perform manual labor, use tools, operate machines, handle materials, and care for property. Average numbers of wage earners were derived by adding numbers reported for each month and dividing sums by 12.

[5] Represents statistics for salaried employees at operations and at central and branch offices, including officers of corporations, managers, superintendents, and other supervisory personnel, responsible professional and technical employees, and clerical employees. Number of salaried employees represents number receiving pay on a representative or normal day or pay-roll period—for 1939, during normal pay-roll period ending nearest Oct. 14; for 1929, on Dec. 14 or on nearest representative day; for 1919, on Dec. 15 or on nearest representative day. Salaries represent total amount paid to salaried employees during calendar year.

[6] Represents statistics for proprietors and firm members at operations and at central and branch offices.

[7] Census statistics not available.

[8] For 1939 includes installation costs, which are excluded for 1929.

[9] Statistics for 1939 and 1929 refer to equipment in use or available for use at end of year.

[10] Includes equipment, with rating of 8,865 horsepower, operated by purchased power other than electric energy.

No. 810.—Copper—Production, Exports, Imports, and Consumption: 1910 to 1949

[In short tons (2,000 pounds). Production figures for unrefined copper cover United States and Alaska. Output of copper from foreign crude materials also shown under refined copper production. Consumption as shown represents quantity withdrawn from total new supply on domestic account (apparent consumption) not actual consumption, largely because consumers' inventories are not taken into account. Over a period of years, however, apparent consumption data give a good indication of consumption trends]

No. 813.—Copper—Exports and Imports: 1891 to 1950

[Exports are those classed as "domestic" in foreign trade statistics but include copper smelted or refined in United States from imported ore or unrefined metal. Values include all forms of copper; quantities represent all copper except the small item, "Other manufactures." Copper content of exports of ore for years 1891–1915 and of imports for years 1891–1903 was estimated]

No. 814.—Gold and Silver—Production in Continental United States, Alaska, Puerto Rico, and Philippine Islands: 1792 to 1949

[Value of gold in terms of money, being at a fixed rate, is not shown in this table. Gold was valued at $20.67+ per fine troy ounce from 1837 until 1933. In 1933, however, various higher prices prevailed subsequently to Executive order of Aug. 29. Value of gold production for that year, as computed by Bureau of Mines, was $65,338,000, including $12,485,000 premium calculated at average weighted price ($25.56 per ounce). On Jan. 31, 1934, legal value of gold was fixed at $35 per fine ounce. Value given for silver is commercial value, except for 1921 to June 1923 and for 1934 and subsequent years (see footnotes 1 and 2), for which periods it has differed materially from coinage value. Excludes production of Philippine Islands after 1945. See also Historical Statistics, series G 118–121, for data excluding Puerto Rico and the Philippine Islands]

No. 817.—Lead—Production of Refined Primary and Secondary Lead: 1830 to 1949, and by Class and Source, 1880 to 1949

[Production in short tons (2,000 pounds); values, except price per pound, in thousands of dollars. Figures except those for antimonial and secondary lead, relate to new (primary) lead only; totals include lead derived from both domestic (including Alaska) and foreign ore. General production figures and production of desilverized lead exclude lead content of antimonial lead, shown in next to last column. See also Historical Statistics, series G 114–115, for data on production and value excluding foreign base bullion]

No. 821.—Coal—Production, 1821 to 1949, and by States, 1926 to 1949

[Quantities in thousands of short tons (2,000 pounds); values in thousands of dollars. Figures relate to mine having an output of 1,000 tons or more a year for 1919, 1921, 1924 and subsequent years. Includes coal consumed at mines. Figures for anthracite relate to Pennsylvania output only; those for bituminous relate to continental United States and Alaska. Bituminous coal includes lignite and small amounts of anthracite outside Pennsylvania. Comparatively little coal is held in stock at the mines. See also Historical Statistics, series G 15–18]

[1] Formerly designated "strikes and lockouts."
[2] Wages and hours were important issues also in some of those disputes. This is especially true in recent year
[3] Includes some duplication (where same workers were involved in more than 1 stoppage). This is particularly significant in 1949, since over 60,000 anthracite miners and over 300,000 bituminous coal miners were involve in 3 separate stoppages during year.

29. Construction and Housing

Construction.—Monthly estimates of the value of work put in place are probably the most widely used of the current Federal statistics on construction. These estimates are prepared jointly by the Department of Commerce and the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Estimates of private nonresidential construction activity are primarily the responsibility of the Department of Commerce. Publicly financed construction of all types and housing construction activity are primarily the responsibilities of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Estimates of privately financed nonresidential construction such as stores, warehouses, and factories are based primarily on F. W. Dodge Corporation reports of construction contracts awarded, supplemented by building permit data for States which the Dodge Corp. does not cover. Public utility construction estimates are derived from data reported by the Interstate Commerce Commission and other Federal regulatory agencies, and by private associations such as the American Gas Association and the American Transit Association.

A considerable number of Federal agencies administer construction programs or award contracts for construction; some of them engage in construction themselves. In this field, construction activity data are derived by the Bureau of Labor Statistics from the reports of the respective Federal agencies. Data on other State and local governmental construction activity are obtained from F. W. Dodge Corporation and Engineering News Record reports.

Estimates of residential construction activity, including number of housing units started, average construction costs, and number of units per structure, are based primarily upon reports of building permits granted which are received from approximately 4,000 permit-granting authorities. Field surveys on a sample basis are used to obtain data on construction activity in nonpermit areas. Sample field surveys are also conducted in permit areas to determine such factors as the proportion of permits allowed to lapse, the time lag between the grant of the permit and the date of start, the relationship between permit valuation and contract valuation, and the length of the building period. During 1946 and 1947 these national figures on housing units started and on average construction costs were supplemented by national data on units completed and by corresponding data for each of 60 local areas. The current program of the Bureau of Labor Statistics provides monthly estimates of the number of housing starts in the nation as a whole, but the series on completions and the local area data have been discontinued.

The Bureau of the Census has taken a Census of Construction for 1929, 1935, and 1939. The last census covered all persons or establishments whose principal business in 1939 was utilizing construction materials and labor in construction work for others, or for themselves for speculative and investment purposes on projects located within the limits of continental United States. Because the Census excluded force account work, its coverage was substantially less than current estimates of value of work put in place.

Housing.—The first national Census of Housing was taken in 1940 by the Bureau of the Census as part of the Sixteenth Decennial Census. Housing data, roughly comparable to those collected in the 1940 Census of Housing, were collected on a sample basis in April 1947 by the Bureau of the Census in its current population survey. The 1950 Census of Housing, which was part of the Seventeenth Decennial Census, was the second national Census to provide data on housing characteristics. A sample of dwelling units enumerated in the 1950 Census of Housing was used as the basis for preliminary reports on housing. For evaluation of sampling variability, see original releases indicated in source notes. (See tables 862–869.)

For some of the 1950 items, comparability with previous censuses was affected by changes in definitions and procedures. Some of these changes are briefly explained below. For a fuller explanation see Department of Commerce, Bureau of Census, Housing Characteristics of the United States: April 1, 1950, Preliminary Reports, 1950 Census of Housing, Series HC–5, No. 1.

Urban and rural areas.—According to the new definition adopted for the 1950 Census, urban areas comprise (a) places of 2,500 inhabitants or more incorporated as cities, boroughs, towns,[1] and villages; (b) the densely settled urban fringe, including both incorporated and unincorporated areas, around cities of 50,000 or more; and (c) unincorporated places of 2,500 inhabitants or more outside any urban fringe. The remaining areas are classified as rural.

According to the 1940 definition, urban areas comprised all places of 2,500 inhabitants or more which are incorporated places and areas (usually minor civil divisions) classified as urban under special rules relating to population size and density. For additional explanation, see page 2.

Farm and nonfarm residence.—In rural areas, dwelling units are subdivided into rural-farm units, which comprise all dwelling units on farms, and rural-nonfarm units, which comprise the remaining rural units. However, the method of determining farm and nonfarm residence in the 1950 Census differs somewhat from that used in earlier censuses. In the 1950 Census, dwelling units on farms for which cash rent was paid for the house and yard only were classified as nonfarm. Furthermore, dwelling units on institutional grounds and in summer camps and tourist courts were classified as nonfarm.

Dwelling unit.—The number of dwelling units, as shown for 1950 may be regarded as comparable with the number of dwelling units shown for earlier years. The instructions used for identifying a dwelling unit in the 1950 Census were more explicit than those used earlier. As a result, some living quarters may have been classified as separate dwelling units in one census and not in the other. However, the net effect of the change in the instructions is probably small.

Vacant dwelling unit.—The enumeration of vacant units in the 1950 Census of Housing was not entirely comparable with the procedure used in the 1940 Census. In 1950, vacant units were enumerated if they were intended for occupancy as living quarters regardless of their condition.

In 1940, vacant units were enumerated if they were habitable; vacant units which were uninhabitable and beyond repair were omitted from the enumeration. Vacant units for sale and vacant units for rent were enumerated as one combined category, and included all habitable vacant units which were available for occupancy even though not actually being offered for rent or sale at the time of enumeration.

Data on home mortgages and foreclosures are provided by the Home Loan Bank Board. The Federal Housing Administration compiles data on its real estate financial operations, such as volume of mortgages insured, type of lending institution, etc.

Historical statistics.—In this section, tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, series H 1–25") provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, 1789–1945. In that historical supplement to the Statistical Abstract, statistics are carried back year by year as far as possible. See also the historical appendix of the present issue of the Abstract for specific titles of series and the earliest year shown in the supplement.

No. 847.—Construction in the United States—Estimated Expenditures for Private and Public Construction: 1915 to 1950

[In millions of dollars. Represents value of work put-in-place during year; consequently differs from building permit and construction contract data which measure value of work started. In addition, coverage generally broader than permit and contract data. Includes value and cost of installation of equipment which is integral part of structure, but not that of machinery, shipbuilding, or land costs. Revised to include estimates of certain types of activity, properly classified as construction, previously omitted. For discussion of adjustments made, see Construction and Construction Materials, Statistical Supplement, May 1950. For unrevised data, see Historical Statistics, series H 1-26]

No. 849.—New Permanent Dwelling Units Started in Nonfarm Areas, by Type: 1920 to 1950

[Figures are estimates covering construction of all new permanent family dwelling units in nonfarm area of United States, based upon building-permit reports, and from 1946, on building-permit information, supplemented by data from field surveys in non-permit-issuing places. This area consists of all urban and rural nonfarm places. Urban designation is applied to all incorporated places with a population of 2,500 or more in 1940, and, by special rule, to a small number of unincorporated civil divisions. Rural nonfarm construction includes all construction for nonagricultural use in unincorporated areas and incorporated places of less than 2,500 population. See also Historical Statistics, series H 40–45; data for 1941–1945 in historical volume include temporary units]

No. 854.—Construction Contracts Awarded—Indexes of Value: 1920 to 1950

[1923-25 average=100. Indexes are derived from monthly figures of construction contracts awarded reported by F. W. Dodge Corporation. Reports covered 37 States beginning with May 1924 and a varying number for earlier years. In order to obtain comparable figures from 1919 to date, total value of construction contracts awarded in 37 States was estimated for January 1919 through April 1924. Seasonal adjustments computed separately for "residential" and "all other" types of construction and the two series combined. Indexes based on a 3-month moving average, centered at middle month. For more detailed description of indexes, see Federal Reserve Bulletin for July 1931]

No. 855.—Engineering Construction Contracts Awarded—Volume, by Type: 1929 to 1950

[In millions of dollars. Covers continental U. S. construction projects of following minimum costs through 1941 (except for 1932-35): Waterworks, excavation, drainage, and irrigation, $15,000; other public works, $25,000; industrial buildings, $40,000; other buildings, $150,000. For 1946, these minimums were raised to $22,500, $40,000, $55,000, and $205,000, respectively, to account for rise in construction costs. For 1947-50, minimums used were $28,000, $50,000, $68,000, and $250,000. For 1932-35, minimums used were: $10,500, $17,500, $28,000, and $105,000]

[2] Associated General Contractors of America. Wages and materials for 12 cities combined in 40–60 ratio Wages, prevailing rates for hod carriers and common labor. Materials, weighted: Sand, gravel and crushe stone, 1; cement, 1; lumber, 1; hollow tile, ½; structural and reinforcing steel, ½.

[3] Engineering News Record construction cost index has 4 components: (1) Structural steel shapes, base price (2) cement at Chicago; (3) lumber, which until 1935 was 12 x 12 long leaf yellow pine wholesale at New York, an since 1935 is 2 x 4 S4S pine and fir in carload lots, ENR 20-cities average; (4) common labor, ENR 20-cities averag of wage rates in force. ENR Building Cost index provides a more representative measure of building cost move ment, the skilled labor trend having been substituted for the common labor trend in the ENR Construction Co index, and the ENR Building Cost index computed.

[4] E. H. Boeckh & Assoc., Inc. Individual series for 10 types of buildings for 20 areas. Weights based on studie of actual building costs—vary with different type of structures. Material prices are those paid by contractors t material dealers. Prevailing skilled and common wage rates from contractors. Base: United States averag 1926–29=100. Series given here is commercial and factory buildings, U. S. average converted to 1913=100 bas

[5] Aberthaw. Until Mar. 31, 1946, New England, 7-story and basement (62′ 4″ x 202′ 4″), reinforced concret building built in 1914, repriced quarterly as a construction bid to duplicate original building; labor costs based o current experience with similar construction. Since Mar. 31, 1946, New England, composite of 36 major co items in 3 multi-story and 2 one-story industrial buildings, including all mechanical trades, repriced using actu and estimated labor and material costs.

[6] George A. Fuller Company. Composite of 36 major cost elements, in 3 commercial type buildings, includin mechanicals, elevators, wiring, heating and ventilating, repriced.

[7] Turner Construction Co. Eastern Cities. Own building cost experience applied to these factors: Labor rate material prices, productivity of labor, efficiency of plant and management, competitive conditions.

[8] Marshall and Stevens. Averages for 4 types of building: Fireproof protected steel, fireproof reinforced con crete, masonry, and frame. Designed to reflect normal costs in line with recognized or published prices of buildin materials, equipment, and labor. Base: U. S. average, 1926=100, converted to 1913=100 base.

[9] Smith, Hinchman, and Grylls, Inc. Actual in-place costs, using building material costs, freight rates, skille and unskilled labor rates and including labor efficiency and premiums, bidding competition, contractor profi margins and overhead. Figured with the contractor overhead are taxes, duration of projects, material expeditin and labor procurement. This index is reported monthly on a 1926=100 base, converted to 1913=100 base.

30. Manufactures

Census of Manufactures.—The basic source of comprehensive data on manufacturing production is the Census of Manufactures conducted by the Bureau of the Census. The first Census of Manufactures covered the year 1809 and a census was taken at 10-year intervals in connection with the Decennial Census of Population up to and including 1899, with the exception of 1829. It was conducted at 5-year intervals from 1904 through 1919, and every other year from 1921 through 1939, but was suspended during the war period. The 1947 Census of Manufactures was the first to be taken since 1939. Present legislation provides for a Census of Manufactures to cover the year 1953 and every fifth year thereafter.

The 1947 Census of Manufactures covered all establishments primarily engaged in manufacturing, as defined in the 1945 revision of the Standard Industrial Classification sponsored by the Bureau of the Budget. To the extent possible, this Census was conducted on an establishment basis. As a rule, the term "establishment" signifies a single plant or factory and is not necessarily identical with the business unit or company which may consist of one or more establishments. A company operating establishments at more than one location is required to submit a report for each location; also, companies engaged in distinctly different lines of activity at one location are required to submit separate reports if separate pay roll and inventory records are kept for each activity. Census figures differ, therefore, from those prepared on a company basis. They also differ to some extent from other tabulations based on establishment reports, where the definition of an establishment as to location and line of activity is not so rigidly applied.

In the 1947 census, reports were required from all establishments employing one or more persons at any time during the census year. In other recent censuses, establishments having less than $5,000 value of products were designated as out of the scope of the census. The change in the minimum size limit in 1947 as compared with 1939 has not appreciably affected the comparability of the figures for these two years, except for data on number of establishments for a few industries.

Each of the establishments covered in the census was classified in one of 458 manufacturing industries in accordance with the industry definitions embodied in the Standard Industrial Classification system. Under this system of classification, an industry is generally defined as a group of establishments producing a single product or a more or less closely related group of products. This product or group of products is in turn said to be "primary" to that industry. Accordingly, an establishment is classified in a particular industry if its production of the primary products of that industry exceeds in value its production of any other group of products. In a few instances, however, the industry classification of an establishment is determined not only by the products it makes but also by the processes employed in making those products.

While some establishments produce only the primary products of the industry in which they are classified, it rarely happens that all the establishments in an industry specialize to this extent. The statistics on employment, pay rolls, value added, inventories, and expenditures, therefore, reflect not only the primary activities of the establishments in that industry but also their activities of a secondary nature. For this reason the industry statistics usually cannot be directly related to statistics on the total shipments of commodities.

Comparative figures shown for 1939 are generally slightly lower than those published in the 1939 reports. The 1939 figures have been revised to exclude retail bakeries, machine-shop repairs, and some other types of establishments also omitted from the 1947 census. Cost of materials and value of products for 1947 were not compiled for summary tables because of the duplication which arises in the combination of individual industries representing successive stages in the production of finished manufactures.

The Bureau of the Census is prohibited by law from publishing any statistics that disclose information reported by individual companies. Figures are, therefore, not shown for an industry or a geographic unit which is represented by only one or two companies, or by more companies when one or two companies produce a very large proportion of the combined output of all the companies. This restriction has no effect upon statistics by industry for the entire United States, or statistics for all industries within States and standard metropolitan areas. There are many instances, however, where this restriction makes it necessary to withhold figures for counties and cities, and for industries within States and areas.

Current and other statistics.—Monthly, quarterly, and annual commodity surveys are also conducted by the Bureau of the Census. These data are published currently in the Facts for Industry series. This series also includes releases of information collected by or for the War Production Board and successor agencies during the war and reconversion periods by the Census Bureau or other Federal agencies.

Reports on current activities of industries, or current movements of individual commodities, are also compiled by trade associations and trade journals, commercial agencies, and by such governmental bureaus as Labor Statistics, Agricultural Economics, Foreign and Domestic Commerce, Fish and Wildlife Service, Tariff Commission, and Internal Revenue, in addition to the Census Bureau previously mentioned.

Abbreviated balance sheet and income account data on all United States manufacturing corporations are compiled and published annually by the Bureau of Internal Revenue from corporation income and profits tax returns and holding company returns.

Data on financial operations and intercorporate relations of manufacturing corporations are collected from time to time by the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Tariff Commission, the Federal Trade Commission, and special investigating agencies. Financial statistics for certain manufacturing industries in the form of balance sheets, profit and loss statements, analyses of sales and expenses, lists of subsidiaries, types and amounts of security issues, and selected data on the salaries paid to officers and directors, are summarized and published for the leading corporations that are registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The Tariff Commission publishes commodity surveys which cover economic and competitive aspects of production, distribution, and international trade in selected important industries. Each survey deals with several products which are related because of the raw materials consumed, or competitive uses. The Federal Trade Commission has made several comprehensive studies of individual industries. Studies of individual industries have also been made by trade associations and private research agencies.

Material in other sections.—In addition to the statistics presented in this section, statistics on the output and activities of manufacturers will be found in various other sections of the Statistical Abstract. For example, data on wages and hours appear in section 8, Labor Force, Employment, and Earnings; statistics on manufacturing corporations compiled from corporation income tax returns appear in section 14, Federal Government Finances, and in section 17, Business Enterprise; and statistics on lumber production in section 26, Forests and Forest Products. For page references to the commodity or industry, consult the index. For references to the important sources of statistics on manufacturing and related activities, see the listings under the appropriate subjects in the "Bibliography of Sources of Statistical Data," page 978.

Geographic coverage.—Statistics in this section relate to continental United States except as noted.

Historical statistics.—In this section, tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, series J 30–48") provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, 1789–1945. In that historical supplement to the Statistical Abstract, statistics are carried back year by year as far as possible. See also the historical appendix of the present issue of the Abstract for specific titles of series and the earliest year shown in the supplement.

No. 883.—Manufactures—Summary: 1849 to 1947

[Figures for 1849 to 1919 include establishments whose products were valued at $500 or more; for 1921 to 1939, establishments whose products were valued at $5,000 or more; for 1947, figures cover all establishments employing 1 or more persons at any time during year. For basis of revisions beginning 1889, see General Explanations, Sec. 13 in source volumes, "Statistics for 1939 and earlier years." See also 1948 Abstract and Historical Statistics, series J 1-12, for unrevised data for 1939 and earlier years]

[1] Figures for 1939 and 1947 include data for employees of manufacturing establishments engaged in distribution and construction work. Extent to which data for such employees were included in figures for earlier years is not known.

[2] For 1939 and earlier years, data represent sum of average number of production workers for year and number of nonproduction workers reported for 1 pay-roll period (usually in October). For 1947, data represent average of 12 monthly figures.

[3] Value of products less cost of materials, supplies, fuel, electricity, and contract work. For 1849–1933, cost of contract work was not subtracted from value of products in calculating value added by manufacture.

[4] Not available. [5] Reduced to gold basis.

[6] Excludes data for salaried officers of corporations and their salaries; therefore not strictly comparable with figures for other years.

[7] Revised on basis of retabulation of returns to exclude data for establishments classified as manufacturing in 1939 and prior years but classified as nonmanufacturing in 1947. Value added by manufacture prior to revision and on a basis comparable with 1937 and previous years, was $24.7 billion.

[8] Number of proprietors and firm members not revised. Figures for "All employees" revised on basis of estimates rather than by retabulation of 1939 reports. (See footnote 7.)

[1] Because of change from $500 to $5,000 in minimum-value-of-products limit, "Number of establishments reporting power equipment" figures for 1919 and earlier years are not comparable with those for 1929 and 1939. This change did not, however, materially impair comparableness of figures for other items in this table.

[2] Returns for "Logging camps and logging contractors (not operating mills)," numbering 967, were excluded from power tabulations.

[3] Includes 47,192 horsepower reported as other owned power, not distributed by type of prime mover.

[4] Includes 28,213 horsepower reported as other owned power, not distributed by type of prime mover.

[5] Figures for "Steam engines" include data for "Steam turbines," not reported separately.

[6] Figures for "Other internal-combustion engines" include data for "Diesel and semi-Diesel engines," not reported separately.

[7] Includes data for water motors.

[1] Includes all full-time and part-time production and related workers, force-account construction workers, clerical and routine office workers, administrative, supervisory, sales, technical, and all other personnel on the pay rolls of manufacturing establishments. Excludes employees of central administrative offices operated by concerns having 2 or more manufacturing establishments. Wages and salaries represent the gross earnings of employees including commissions, dismissal pay, nonproduction bonuses, vacation and sick leave pay, and compensation in kind, and prior to such deductions as employees' social security contributions, withholding taxes, group insurance, union dues, and savings bonds.

[2] Value of products less cost of materials, supplies, fuel, electricity, and contract work.

[3] There were no establishments classified in this industry in 1939.

No. 894.—Manufactures—Value of Products Shipped and Cost of Materials, by Industry: 1947

[In thousands of dollars. This table supplements table 893. Cost of materials and value of products were not compiled for industry groups because of the duplication which arises in the combination of individual industries representing successive stages in the production of finished manufactures. For this reason figures are given in this table only for those individual industries in which little or no duplication arises. Value added by manufacture figures shown in table 893 were usually calculated by subtracting cost of materials, etc., from value of products shipped. For a limited number of industries, however, information was requested on quantity of production, as well as on quantity and value of shipments of product items. For most of these industries, value added for the larger establishments (50 or more employees) was calculated by multiplying the quantity of each item produced by a unit value derived from the shipments data, adding these values to obtain a total value of production, and subtracting therefrom the cost of materials. Consequently, for such industries, value added by manufacture in table 893 does not equal the value of products shipped, less cost of materials, etc., as given in this table]

No. 895.—Manufactures—Selected Statistics for Geographic Divisions, by Major Industry Groups: 1947 and 1939

[Value added figures in thousands of dollars. Figures for 1939 adjusted for comparability with 1947. In cases where figures for a geographic division cannot be given separately without disclosing data for individual companies, they have been combined with the figures for one or more other geographic divisions. In such cases, a (d) appears in each column where a figure has been omitted and the combined figures appear, printed in italics, in the column of the last geographic division included in the combination (reading from left to right). As a result, whenever the figures for a geographic division appear in italics, or the symbol [d] has been substituted, the major industry groups will not add to the printed "All industries, total" for that geographic division]

[1] Includes all full-time and part-time production and related workers, force-account construction workers, clerical and routine office workers, administrative, supervisory, sales, technical, and all other personnel on pay rolls of manufacturing establishments. Excludes employees of central administrative offices operated by concerns having 2 or more manufacturing establishments. Wages and salaries represent gross earnings of employees including commissions, dismissal pay, nonproduction bonuses, vacation and sick leave pay, and compensation in kind, and prior to such deductions as employees' social security contributions, withholding taxes, group insurance, union dues, and savings bonds.

[2] Value of products less cost of materials, supplies, fuel, electricity, and contract work.

[3] Figures will not add to totals because of rounding.

No. 897.—Manufactures—General Statistics for Standard Metropolitan Areas: 1947 and 1939

[Money figures in thousands of dollars. Data cover standard metropolitan areas having 40,000 or more manufacturing employees in 1947. These areas replace industrial areas shown in earlier censuses. Industrial areas, as defined in previous years, were groups of contiguous counties having large numbers of manufacturing wage earners. Present standard metropolitan areas are integrated economic and social entities which contain not only highly industrialized counties, but also adjoining counties which, though primarily residential in character, contribute significantly to the industrial counties' labor force. The 53 areas presented in this table represent a part of a larger list of standard metropolitan areas recently established by the Federal Government for the use of all Government statistical collection agencies. Standard metropolitan areas are composed of whole counties in all parts of the U. S., with the exception of New England where they are composed of towns. For definition of each area, see 1947 Census of Manufactures preliminary report, series MC 100-3 or final report, Vol. III]

[In thousands of dollars. Excludes data for certain small establishments which were not asked to report on capital expenditures. It is estimated that establishments covered by this table accounted for over 98 percent of capital expenditures made by all manufacturing establishments. Figures refer to all costs actually incurred during year chargeable to fixed assets accounts of manufacturing establishments and for which depreciation accounts are maintained. Excludes expenditures for following: Maintenance and repair, new manufacturing establishments under construction but not in operation during year, nonmanufacturing establishments owned by manufacturing concerns, and expenditures made by owners of plant and equipment leased to manufacturers]

00.—Inventories in Hands of Manufacturers at Beginning and End of 1947, by Major Industry Groups

sands of dollars. Inventory statistics exclude data for industries in printing and publishing groups, small lls, and certain small establishments in other industries. It is estimated that for industry groups shown, represent 99 percent of all inventories held by them. Figures cover inventories held for account of indi- manufacturing establishments and exclude inventories held for account of sales branches, central ware-, or central administrative offices of manufacturing concerns]

[1] Includes data for Hawaii for all years and data for Puerto Rico beginning with Aug. 1, 1928.
[2] Separate accounts for alcohol produced at industrial alcohol plants required commencing May 1, 1920.
[3] Through 1940, represents withdrawals of all products for denaturation, that is, domestic ethyl alcohol, spir produced by registered distilleries (redesignated upon receipt at denaturing plants as alcohol), and rum. Beg ning 1944, represents all products (except rum) used for denaturation, that is, domestic ethyl alcohol, import ethyl alcohol, and spirits. Rum is included for 1935 and 1940 because denatured rum is included with specia denatured alcohol for those years.
[4] Prior to 1944 includes denatured rum.
[5] Represents gross production. Net production (gross production minus products used in redistillation) such years follows: 1944, 500,929,045; 1945, 650,089,874.

No. 907.—Tobacco, Leaf—Amounts Consumed in the Manufacture of Cigar Cigarettes, Chewing and Smoking Tobacco, and Snuff: 1896 to 1949

[All figures in thousands of pounds. Figures represent the equivalent in unstemmed leaf tobacco of stemm leaf or scraps, cuttings, and clippings. In the following table the tobacco used in the manufacture of cig and cigarettes was converted on the basis of 3 pounds of stemmed leaf or scraps, etc., to 4 pounds of unstemm beginning 1915 (conversion prior to 1915 was at the ratio of 3 to 5) and of tobacco and snuff beginning 1903. 1896 to 1902, tobacco used in manufactured tobacco and snuff was shown only under two heads, namely, "le and "scraps." It is probable that stemmed leaf was included with unstemmed tobacco under the head "leaf" without the one kind being converted to the equivalent in the other. The conversion ratio of 3 to 4 applied only to "scraps" for these years. Data exclude tobacco used in bonded manufacturing warehous See also Historical Statistics, series J 171, for annual total consumption]

1945 and earlier years data represent sum of greatest number of cotton spindles reported by each mill as any time during year, regardless of length of time operated. Beginning with 1946, active figure includes n-system spindles active last day of year, regardless of type of fiber spun. On July 29, 1950, there were 0 spindles active on cotton, 1,040,000 on synthetics, 232,000 on other fibers and blends, and 1,205,000 idle.

[1] Preliminary.
[2] No comparable data.
[3] Excludes byproduct coke-oven production. Data for 1948–1950 include synthetic ammonium sulfate produ in coke plants, as well as quantities produced for the account of Department of the Army.
[4] Proportion of estimate, 5 percent.
[5] Not shown separately to avoid disclosure of individual operations.
[6] Includes data for deodorizing, decolorizing, and water purification grades. Data for gas-mask solvent recov grades excluded.
[7] Total production including quantities liquified for use, storage or shipment.
[8] Includes data for molybdate chrome orange.
[9] Includes quantities diverted to manufacture of caustic soda and sodium bicarbonate and quantities proce to finished light and finished dense soda ash.
[10] Excludes quantities converted to finished dense soda ash.
[11] Collected in cooperation with Bureau of Mines.
[12] Excludes production from Wyoming.
[13] Proportion of estimate, 3 percent or less.
[14] Liquid production figures represent total production for each process, including quantities later evapora to solid caustic and reported as such.
[15] Includes sulfuric acid of oleum grades.

No. 947.—Iron and Steel—Aggregate Exports: 1890 to 1950

[Covers products listed in table 948; excludes data for highly elaborated products of iron and steel. Value figures through 1921 exclude, and those beginning 1922 include data for small items for which quantity figures are not available. Ferromanganese data included for all years. Data for steam and hot-water heating boilers and radiators, formerly classified as heavy iron and steel products, excluded beginning with 1922]

No. 952.—Copper and Copper-Base Alloy Rolled, Drawn and Extrude Products—Shipments, by Kind: 1939 and 1947

[In short tons (2,000 pounds). Covers shipments and interplant transfers of copper and copper-base alloy pro ucts, including production of these items consumed by producing plant in manufacturing fabricated produc These figures, therefore, represent gross shipments of copper and copper-base alloy products. 1939 figures copper-base alloys refer to brass and bronze products only; figures for other copper-base alloys excluded s to this extent data not comparable with 1947. Data on shipments, interplant transfers, and produced and co sumed in same plant have been combined since data are not comparable for each of these measures separate Some establishments which reported rolling mill and fabricating operations at same location in 1939 treat each of these operations as separate establishments in 1947. For this reason some of tonnage reported as p duced and consumed in same establishment in 1939 was considered as interplant transfers in 1947]

PRODUCT	1939	1947
Copper and copper-base alloy wire and cable, bare and tinned	381,666	911,2

No. 962.—Shipments of Air-Conditioning Equipment and Components and Accessories for Air-Conditioning and Commercial-Refrigeration Equipment, 1940 to 1949

[Value figures in thousands of dollars; represent manufacturer's billing prices for units actually billed and shipped. 1949 figures based on reports from 93 companies manufacturing components and accessories for air-conditioning and commercial-refrigeration and complete air-conditioning equipment. Small concerns active in 1948 as well as 1949, but not included in 1948 data, accounted for less than 2 percent of total value of shipments in 1949. Data for earlier years are less complete, and thus not strictly comparable]

No. 963.—Alaska—Manufactures, by Industries: 1899 to 1939

[Figures for 1939 do not include data for plants reporting products valued at less than $2,000; those for earlier years cover all plants having products valued at $500 or more. This increase in minimum value-of-products limit resulted in some reduction in "Number of establishments" reported as compared with what it would have been had minimum of $500 been retained, but did not seriously impair comparableness of figures for 1939 with those for earlier years. Comparable figures for earlier years are given for all industries for which such figures are available]

[1] Retabulated to provide industry statistics comparable with those for 1949.
[2] Computed by subtracting costs of materials and supplies, fuels, electric energy, and contract work from value of products.
[3] Includes data for industry groups not shown separately (to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies) as follows: Rubber, primary metal industries, electrical machinery, and transportation equipment, 1 establishment each; and for instruments and related products, 2 establishments.
[4] Comparable statistics for 1939 not available. Figures for 1949 include statistics for activities of (1) coffee roasting and grinding and (2) tobacco stemming and redrying, which were classified as manufacturing in 1949 but considered nonmanufacturing in 1939.
[5] This figure may include an undetermined amount of excise taxes.
[6] Also includes shortening, cooking oils, and flavorings.
[7] Also includes fabric and combination dress and work gloves.
[8] Also includes sporting and athletic goods, hand stamps and stencils, needles, pins, and fasteners, plastic products, brooms and brushes, matches, and hair work.
[d] Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual companies.

31. Foreign Commerce

(Including International Transactions)

International transactions.—The statistics shown for international receipts an payments, foreign investment, and foreign grants and credits were compiled in th Office of Business Economics of the Department of Commerce.

The international accounts of the United States prepared by the Balance of Pay ments Division, Office of Business Economics, comprise the international balance payments (table 966) and the international investment position (table 967). Th balance of payments shows for given time periods, e. g., one year, the transfers assets and the form of compensation for these transfers between this country and th rest of the world; the international investment position indicates for specific dates th value of United States investments abroad and of foreign investments in the Unite States. The two types of accounts, however, are not strictly comparable; the tran fers of assets between countries as shown in the balance of payments is only one the factors affecting the value of foreign investments. Other factors not shown in th balance of payments are changes in security values and revaluation of assets, and r invested earnings and losses. For a detailed discussion and analysis of these account see the Department of Commerce publications, International Transactions of th United States During the War, 1940–45, Economic Series No. 65, 1948, and The Balan of International Payments of the United States, 1946–48, published in 1949. Fo current data and revisions, see the monthly Survey of Current Business.

Foreign aid has been defined to comprise two categories—grants and credits. Grant are largely outright gifts for which no payment is expected, or which at most involv an obligation on the part of the receiver to extend reciprocal aid to the United State or other countries to achieve a common objective. Credits are loans or other agre ments which give rise to specific obligations to repay, usually over a period of year with interest. In some instances assistance has been given with the understandin that a decision as to repayment will be made at a later date; such assistance is include in grants. At such time as an agreement is reached for repayment over a period o years, a credit is established. Because such credits cannot, as a rule, be deducte from specific grants recorded in previous periods, they are included in both grants (a the earlier period) and credits (at the time of the agreement), and the amounts o such credit-agreement offsets to grants must therefore be deducted from the total o grants and credits in arriving at gross foreign aid. All known returns to the Unite States Government stemming from grants and credits are also taken into account The result of gross foreign aid less the returns is net foreign aid, which is shown a net grants and net credits. Net credits for the total war and postwar periods approx imate the amount of credit outstanding on December 31, 1950.

Tables 968 and 969 on United States Government grants and credits utilized by for eign countries and reverse grants and credit repayments received by the Government from abroad were prepared by the Clearing Office for Foreign Transactions, Office o Business Economics.

Data on United States Government foreign transactions are obtained from Federa agencies which report such transactions to the Clearing Office. Detailed information on the statistics provided in tables 968 and 969, and on other foreign activities of the Government, is provided in the regular quarterly reports of the Clearing Office.

The major activities of the Economic Cooperation Administration are summarized in tables 970 to 972, prepared by the Division of Statistics and Reports of that agency. Data are presented on the European Program (known more familiarly as the "Marshall Plan") and the separate program for the Far East.

In the ECA tables, colonies and overseas territories of European countries are reported with mother countries; the Saar is shown with France. Commodity groups shown are based on the Economic Cooperation Administration commodity classification. In determining the various reporting groups, an attempt has been made to align the coverage of the summary groups shown in these tables as closely as possible with that of reports on United States exports originating in the Bureau of the Census.

These and other data are published in more detail in the several monthly publications of the Division of Statistics and Reports of the Economic Cooperation Administration which may be obtained directly from the Economic Cooperation Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

Foreign trade.—Statistics on foreign trade are compiled by the Bureau of the Census of the Department of Commerce. Annual statistics through 1946 are published in the annual report, Foreign Commerce and Navigation of the United States. Preliminary statistics for later years are from current corrected data. Monthly data are published in the Monthly Summary of Foreign Commerce of the United States and other monthly reports of the foreign trade series. For a complete list of these reports see Catalog of United States Foreign Trade Statistical Publications issued by the Bureau of the Census.

Statistics covering shipments made after World War II under the Department of the Army Civilian Supply Program are included in the export statistics for 1948 but not for earlier years. In addition, export data include United States exports under the Lend-Lease, United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, Economic Cooperation Administration, Mutual Defense Assistance, and other foreign aid programs. Shipments to United States armed forces for their own use are not included in export statistics for any period.

Certain commodity classifications in the export statistics were grouped for security reasons into special categories beginning with May 1949 and data for the individual commodities withheld from publication. The special category list of commodities was amended in July 1949 and again in July 1950 to include additional commodities. With the adoption of new security regulations, effective July 1950, the publication of the country of destination and Customs District detail for the special category commodities and groups were discontinued. Data for special commodities are included, however, in all total export statistics for 1949 and 1950 issued by the Bureau of the Census.

Except as noted (as, for example, in table 996) the values stated are in United States dollars without reference to changes in the gold content of the dollar. (The statutory price of gold—$20.67 per ounce—in effect prior to Jan. 31, 1934, was changed on that date by Executive Order to $35 per ounce. Between Mar. 10, 1933, and Jan. 31, 1934, the foreign exchange value of the dollar was permitted to depreciate as a result of the restriction placed on gold shipments to foreign countries.) The geographic area covered by these statistics, except as noted, is the United States customs area, which includes Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico, and from Jan. 1, 1935, through Dec. 31, 1939, the Virgin Islands (see headnote, table 977). Other explanations of the trade tables are given in the introduction to the annual report, Foreign Commerce and Navigation of the United States.

Historical statistics.—In this section, tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, series M 14–41") provide cross references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, 1789–1945. In that historical supplement to the Statistical Abstract, statistics are carried back year by year as far as possible. See also the historical appendix of the present issue of the Abstract for specific titles of series and the earliest year shown in the supplement.

[In millions of dollars. Estimates for end of year; subject to considerable error due to nature of basic data. No allowance for write-offs, war damage, or expropriations without compensation of U. S. direct investments abroad. Direct investments at book value; other types at market or stated values. For 1945–49, value of securities of former enemy countries, or countries where no realistic market can be determined, has been eliminated, not entirely comparable with earlier years due to this and other revisions. No. 968.—U. S. Government Foreign Aid by Program, to December 31, 19

[In millions of dollars. "Gross foreign aid" represents the gross value of goods, services, and funds furnished foreign countries through the utilization of U. S. Government grants and credits. In addition, grants unutilized although appropriated (or authorized) by Congress, amount to $10,305 million, of which $6,675 million represent funds for mutual defense assistance; credits unutilized but authorized amount to $1,645 million. "Reverse grants and returns on grants" is comprised of (a) goods, services, and funds received through reverse lend-lease or acquired under foreign-currency counterpart provisions of Economic Cooperation Administration programs, (b) returned lend-lease naval and merchant ships, and (c) cash received under postwar war-account settlements for grants furnished earlier. "Principal collected on credits" includes goods, services, and funds received in reduction of outstanding credits, excluding repayments on World War I debts. "Funds" includes foreign currency which, with goods and services, is measured in dollar equivalents]

[1] July 1, 1940, through June 30, 1945. All lend-lease and credit-agreement offsets to grants are through VJ-day (Sept. 2, 1945).

[2] Outstanding credits on Dec. 31, 1950, totaled $10,006 million, exceeding net credits for the war and postwar periods by $98 million, representing the outstanding (or net) credits resulting from Export-Import Bank operations from date of organization, Feb. 12, 1934, through June 30, 1940. By country, this $98 million is American Republics, $32 million; China, $29 million; Finland, $11 million; Italy, $4 million; Portugal, $3 million; Rumania, $1 million; Spain, $13 million; Sweden, $4 million.

[3] Country detail not shown because substantial part of data on aid to this area not available by country.

[4] Less than $500,000. [5] Net (−) of less than $500,000. [6] Net (+) of less than $500,000.

[7] Data include small amounts for Pakistan. [8] Includes Taiwan (Formosa).

[9] See footnote 3 to table 968. Estimates for individual countries are not available.

[10] Gross foreign aid, net foreign aid, and net credits for Netherlands include $17.2 million ERP credits to Netherlands on behalf of Indonesia ($5.8 million in 1948; $10.4 million in 1949; and $1.0 million in 1950). All other aid to Indonesia, including grants under European Recovery Program, included against Indonesia.

No. 976.—Exports and Imports of Merchandise, Per Capita: 1791 to 1950

[Export figures for 1791 to 1820 are based on total exports including reexports (the latter were then relatively large) and for 1821 to date, on exports of United States merchandise only. Import figures for 1791 to 1820 are based on general imports; for 1821 to 1870, total imports less reexports; and for 1871 to date, imports for consumption. (See tables 974 and 997)]

No. 977.—Merchandise Trade of Continental United States With Foreign Countries and Outlying Territories and Possessions: 1903 to 1948

Important Note.—This table differs as to its geographic basis from all other foreign trade tables in this section and in other publications: (1) In the case of other tables the data represent the trade of the United States customs area with all foreign countries, including the Philippine Islands and prior to 1935, the Virgin Islands. The U. S. customs area comprises continental U. S., Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and during 1935 through 1939, the Virgin Islands. Trade between continental U. S. and the territories mentioned as part of the customs area are therefore excluded from these data. (2) The present table takes continental United States as the basis. In the totals, trade between it and all United States Territories and possessions is included, while the trade between that part of the customs area outside of continental United States and foreign countries is excluded. Practically all other nations calculate their foreign trade in the manner followed in the present table, that is, totaling the trade of the home country with foreign countries and with all outlying areas. Prior to 1901 Alaska was our only outlying area. Therefore, our foreign trade statistics for 1900 and earlier years very nearly represent the trade of continental United States with foreign countries. Data are for years ending June 30 through 1918; thereafter, for years ending Dec 31. For purposes of continuity of the data in this table, trade with the Republic of the Philippines has been treated as trade with a Territory through calendar year 1946, even though Philippine independence was established in July 1946.

No. 984.—Exports of U. S. Merchandise and Imports—Indexes of Chang in Quantity, Unit Value (Price), and Total Value: 1913 to 1950

[Quantity and unit value indexes have been constructed by so-called "ideal formula," essential feature of wh is use of quantities of several articles as weighting factors of their unit values for each pair of years compar About 265 commodities were included in direct calculations for b[illegible] and imports. It was then assum that prices of articles in each economic class not directly covered had moved in parallel with those of arti covered and their value, adjusted by computed price index, was included in aggregative totals from wh quantity index for each class was calculated. Index of quantity and unit value of total exports and impo was based on aggregate of adjusted totals of classes. In constructing indexes, data for 1919 were linked direc to 1913, and each subsequent year was compared with that preceding. Resulting year-to-year percentages w made into a series by chain method]

No. 987.—Exports of United States Merchandise—Value of Selected Articles: 1821 to 1950

[In thousands of dollars. For basis of dollar values, except export figures for 1870–78, see general note, p. 814. Export figures for those years are mixed gold and currency values. Figures are for fiscal years ending Sept. 30 through 1840, and June 30, 1850 through 1915; calendar years thereafter. In some cases blanks represent entire absence of trade; in other cases the item is not available separately]

[1] Total includes $632,019,000 not shown by continents due to security regulations. [2] Newfoundland and Labrador included with Canada in 1950 and for imports in 1949. [3] Less than $500. ⊙ [4] Canal Zone included for 1936 and 1937. ⊙ [5] Average for 1938-40. ⊙ [6] Bahamas, Leeward and Windward Islands combined as Other British West Indies prior to 1942; average for 1941-45 shown under Other British West Indies. ⊙ [7] Average for 1942-45. ⊙ [8] For statistical purposes, trade with Germany was defined to include (as far as ascertainable) trade with areas under de facto administrative control of Germany from the following dates to the close of World War II: Austria, May 6, 1938; Sudeten area of Czecho-Slovakia, Nov. 10, 1938; other Czecho-Slovak provinces (Bohemia, Moravia, and part of Slovakia), Mar. 18, 1939; Memel territory of Lithuania, Mar. 25, 1939; and Danzig and German-occupied Poland, Nov. 16, 1939. Similarly, trade with that area of Czecho-Slovakia occupied by Hungary was defined to be trade with Hungary for those portions of Ruthenia and parts of Slovakia occupied Dec. 30, 1938, and Mar. 19, 1939, respectively. Trade with Czecho-Slovak area occupied by Poland was included with the Polish trade from Dec. 30, 1938, to Nov. 16, 1939. Though country classifications used in this table do not recognize de facto boundaries existing in certain geographic areas after World War II, statistics are primarily in terms of this situation. For example, certain shipments credited to U. S. S. R. should probably be credited to Estonia, Latvia, Russian-occupied Poland, etc., but when the country of ultimate destination or origin of merchandise in terms of prewar boundaries is not readily ascertainable, the de facto situation is reflected in the statistics. ⊙ [9] Average for 1936-38.

No. 996.—Exports (Including Reexports) and Imports of Merchandise, by Principal Customs Districts: 1860 to 1950

[In thousands of dollars. For basis of dollar values, except export figures for 1870–78, see general note, p. 814. Export figures for those years represent mixed gold and currency values. Figures cover fiscal years to and including 1915; thereafter, calendar years. Import data are "general imports" through 1933; "imports for consumption" thereafter. Areas of districts were rearranged July 1, 1913. Prior to that date some of the districts were more restricted. However, in most cases this change only slightly affects the comparability of the figures. Prior to 1914 the statistics given in the table for Buffalo include the (former) districts of Buffalo Creek and Niagara; those for Michigan include the (former) districts of Superior, Huron, and Detroit, and those for Massachusetts and Maryland were the former districts of Boston and Baltimore, respectively]

No. 997.—Imports Entered for Consumption and Duties Thereon: 1821 to 1950

[For basis of dollar values, see general note, p. 814. From 1821 to 1866, inclusive, figures of import values represent total imports less reexports, and for 1867 and later years imports entered for consumption. "Ratio of duties to total" is based upon values of imports shown in table. Figures cover fiscal years ending Sept. 30, 1821 to 1842, and June 30, 1843 to 1915; calendar years thereafter. See also Historical Statistics, series M 68–74]

99.—Imports of Merchandise, Free and Dutiable, and Percent Free, by Economic Classes: 1821 to 1950

sands of dollars. For basis of dollar values, see general note, p. 814. Figures cover fiscal years ending 30, 1821 to 1840, and June 30, 1850 to 1915; calendar years thereafter, except as noted. Data are "general rts" through 1933, "imports for consumption" beginning 1934. Percentage free in general imports is ally slightly lower than in imports for consumption because relatively more of dutiable general imports ported as reexported than of free general imports. Moreover, in the period 1922-1933, there is an under- ment of free goods in general imports because, for 1922 to 1933, carpet wool used for making carpets and, for o 1928, wheat imported for milling in bond for exports were reported as dutiable when entered, although ity was ultimately paid on these products. For adjusted figures see table 492 of 1935 issue of Statistical act. See also Historical Statistics, series M 75-86]

32. Commerce of Territories and Possessions

statistics in this section, except as noted, were compiled by the Department of nerce, Bureau of the Census. These statistics are published in the Monthly ıary of Foreign Commerce of the United States. In the general foreign trade tics in the preceding section, the Virgin Islands is treated as a foreign country to 1935 and its trade with the United States is included while its trade with countries is not included. On the other hand, Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico, or 1935–39, the Virgin Islands, are treated as integral parts of the United States, ıt trade between them and continental United States is not included, while trade ·en them and foreign countries is included. Each of these territories appears as ıarate customs district, but beginning with 1940, trade of the Virgin Islands has excluded from the merchandise export and import figures. Neither trade of ican Samoa and Guam with foreign countries nor shipments between them and nited States are included in the general tables on foreign trade. See also table . 830.

e tables in this section present the total foreign trade of each of the U. S. Terri- and possessions and show separately the trade with United States (unless other- ndicated) and with foreign countries. The trade with foreign countries represents ts and imports through the respective territorial Customs Districts and does not ıarily represent exports of commodities originating within the designated territory nports for direct consumption within the territory. For basis of dollar values, neral note, p. 814.

CENSUS OF BUSINESS

The primary source of data on distribution and services is the Census of Business. e first Census of Business covered the calendar year 1929. Although the next was eduled by law to cover the year 1939, two special censuses covering the years 1933 1935 were taken before the regular 1939 census conducted as part of the 16th nsus of the United States.
In accordance with the provisions of the act of June 19, 1948, the Business Census been separated from the decennial censuses and is to be conducted at 5-year inter-s. The first Business Census under the new act was taken in 1949 covering the r 1948. These results are being issued in four general sets of reports: (1) Pre-inary county releases, (2) final area bulletins (States including counties and cities), final subject bulletins, and (4) final trade bulletins. Issuance of series (1) and (2) been completed. Series (3) and (4) will be released during 1951.
The business establishments covered in the fields included in the Census of Business y be generally described as follows:

Retail trade.—Places of business primarily engaged in selling merchandise for personal household or farm consumption;
Wholesale trade.—Establishments primarily engaged in selling goods to dealers and distributors for resale or to purchasers who buy for business uses; and,
Service.—Establishments engaged primarily in the sale of services as contrasted with the sale of merchandise.

The censuses taken in 1929, 1935, and 1939 included information on the distribution manufacturers' sales showing the proportion of manufacturers' output flowing rough various distribution channels. Similar information is not available for the 948 Census.
The 1948 Census of Business, for the first time, incorporates information on Retail arehouses and wholesale and retail administrative offices and other auxiliary nits in basic tables. In the case of retail and wholesale trade, separate data r these units for States, metropolitan areas, and counties are presented in Area ulletins. For service trade, no separate data for these units are presented, but atistics for them have been incorporated with data for operating establishments id are an integral part of all tables.
The most important differences in scope among the four Censuses of Business are be found in the coverage of service enterprises. Service establishments were not cluded in the 1929 Census of Business. The 1933 Census of Business was expanded include certain service enterprises. These can be broadly classified into the following e major groups: (1) personal services, such as barber shops, laundries, etc., (2) lected business services, (3) repair services, (4) places of amusement, and (5) hotels. ne 1935 Business Census added a number of important businesses among which were nking and finance, motor transportation, real estate agencies, warehousing, in-rance, and radio broadcasting. The types of business added in 1935 were dropped 1939 along with a number of minor types of service business. The most signifi-nt changes in scope of the service phase of the 1948 Census of Business from the ope of the 1939 Census are exclusion (in whole or substantial part) of the 1939 nsus groups entitled "Services Allied to Transportation," and "Custom Industries."

CENSUS OF BUSINESS

The primary source of data on distribution and services is the Census of Business. The first Census of Business covered the calendar year 1929. Although the next was scheduled by law to cover the year 1939, two special censuses covering the years 1933 and 1935 were taken before the regular 1939 census conducted as part of the 16th Census of the United States.

In accordance with the provisions of the act of June 19, 1948, the Business Census has been separated from the decennial censuses and is to be conducted at 5-year intervals. The first Business Census under the new act was taken in 1949 covering the year 1948. These results are being issued in four general sets of reports: (1) Preliminary county releases, (2) final area bulletins (States including counties and cities), (3) final subject bulletins, and (4) final trade bulletins. Issuance of series (1) and (2) has been completed. Series (3) and (4) will be released during 1951.

The business establishments covered in the fields included in the Census of Business may be generally described as follows:

Retail trade.—Places of business primarily engaged in selling merchandise for personal household or farm consumption;

Wholesale trade.—Establishments primarily engaged in selling goods to dealers and distributors for resale or to purchasers who buy for business uses; and,

Service.—Establishments engaged primarily in the sale of services as contrasted with the sale of merchandise.

The censuses taken in 1929, 1935, and 1939 included information on the distribution of manufacturers' sales showing the proportion of manufacturers' output flowing through various distribution channels. Similar information is not available for the 1948 Census.

The 1948 Census of Business, for the first time, incorporates information on Retail warehouses and wholesale and retail administrative offices and other auxiliary units in basic tables. In the case of retail and wholesale trade, separate data for these units for States, metropolitan areas, and counties are presented in Area Bulletins. For service trade, no separate data for these units are presented, but statistics for them have been incorporated with data for operating establishments and are an integral part of all tables.

The most important differences in scope among the four Censuses of Business are to be found in the coverage of service enterprises. Service establishments were not included in the 1929 Census of Business. The 1933 Census of Business was expanded to include certain service enterprises. These can be broadly classified into the following five major groups: (1) personal services, such as barber shops, laundries, etc., (2) selected business services, (3) repair services, (4) places of amusement, and (5) hotels. The 1935 Business Census added a number of important businesses among which were banking and finance, motor transportation, real estate agencies, warehousing, insurance, and radio broadcasting. The types of business added in 1935 were dropped in 1939 along with a number of minor types of service business. The most significant changes in scope of the service phase of the 1948 Census of Business from the scope of the 1939 Census are exclusion (in whole or substantial part) of the 1939 Census groups entitled "Services Allied to Transportation," and "Custom Industries."

CENSUS OF BUSINESS

The primary source of data on distribution and services is the Census of Business. The first Census of Business covered the calendar year 1929. Although the next was scheduled by law to cover the year 1939, two special censuses covering the years 1933 and 1935 were taken before the regular 1939 census conducted as part of the 16th Census of the United States.

In accordance with the provisions of the act of June 19, 1948, the Business Census has been separated from the decennial censuses and is to be conducted at 5-year intervals. The first Business Census under the new act was taken in 1949 covering the year 1948. These results are being issued in four general sets of reports: (1) Preliminary county releases, (2) final area bulletins (States including counties and cities), (3) final subject bulletins, and (4) final trade bulletins. Issuance of series (1) and (2) has been completed. Series (3) and (4) will be released during 1951.

The business establishments covered in the fields included in the Census of Business may be generally described as follows:

Retail trade.—Places of business primarily engaged in selling merchandise for personal household or farm consumption;

Wholesale trade.—Establishments primarily engaged in selling goods to dealers and distributors for resale or to purchasers who buy for business uses; and,

Service.—Establishments engaged primarily in the sale of services as contrasted with the sale of merchandise.

The censuses taken in 1929, 1935, and 1939 included information on the distribution of manufacturers' sales showing the proportion of manufacturers' output flowing through various distribution channels. Similar information is not available for the 1948 Census.

The 1948 Census of Business, for the first time, incorporates information on Retail warehouses and wholesale and retail administrative offices and other auxiliary units in basic tables. In the case of retail and wholesale trade, separate data for these units for States, metropolitan areas, and counties are presented in Area Bulletins. For service trade, no separate data for these units are presented, but statistics for them have been incorporated with data for operating establishments and are an integral part of all tables.

The most important differences in scope among the four Censuses of Business are to be found in the coverage of service enterprises. Service establishments were not included in the 1929 Census of Business. The 1933 Census of Business was expanded to include certain service enterprises. These can be broadly classified into the following five major groups: (1) personal services, such as barber shops, laundries, etc., (2) selected business services, (3) repair services, (4) places of amusement, and (5) hotels. The 1935 Business Census added a number of important businesses among which were banking and finance, motor transportation, real estate agencies, warehousing, insurance, and radio broadcasting. The types of business added in 1935 were dropped in 1939 along with a number of minor types of service business. The most significant changes in scope of the service phase of the 1948 Census of Business from the scope of the 1939 Census are exclusion (in whole or substantial part) of the 1939 Census groups entitled "Services Allied to Transportation," and "Custom Industries."

33. Distribution and Services

(Including Advertising)

Data in this section relate to continental United States.

For additional or related data on distribution and service trades other than those included in this section, consult the index.

CENSUS OF BUSINESS

The primary source of data on distribution and services is the Census of Business. The first Census of Business covered the calendar year 1929. Although the next was scheduled by law to cover the year 1939, two special censuses covering the years 1933 and 1935 were taken before the regular 1939 census conducted as part of the 16th Census of the United States.

In accordance with the provisions of the act of June 19, 1948, the Business Census has been separated from the decennial censuses and is to be conducted at 5-year intervals. The first Business Census under the new act was taken in 1949 covering the year 1948. These results are being issued in four general sets of reports: (1) Preliminary county releases, (2) final area bulletins (States including counties and cities), (3) final subject bulletins, and (4) final trade bulletins. Issuance of series (1) and (2) has been completed. Series (3) and (4) will be released during 1951.

The business establishments covered in the fields included in the Census of Business may be generally described as follows:

Retail trade.—Places of business primarily engaged in selling merchandise for personal household or farm consumption;

Wholesale trade.—Establishments primarily engaged in selling goods to dealers and distributors for resale or to purchasers who buy for business uses; and,

Service.—Establishments engaged primarily in the sale of services as contrasted with the sale of merchandise.

The censuses taken in 1929, 1935, and 1939 included information on the distribution of manufacturers' sales showing the proportion of manufacturers' output flowing through various distribution channels. Similar information is not available for the 1948 Census.

The 1948 Census of Business, for the first time, incorporates information on Retail warehouses and wholesale and retail administrative offices and other auxiliary units in basic tables. In the case of retail and wholesale trade, separate data for these units for States, metropolitan areas, and counties are presented in Area Bulletins. For service trade, no separate data for these units are presented, but statistics for them have been incorporated with data for operating establishments and are an integral part of all tables.

The most important differences in scope among the four Censuses of Business are to be found in the coverage of service enterprises. Service establishments were not included in the 1929 Census of Business. The 1933 Census of Business was expanded to include certain service enterprises. These can be broadly classified into the following five major groups: (1) personal services, such as barber shops, laundries, etc., (2) selected business services, (3) repair services, (4) places of amusement, and (5) hotels. The 1935 Business Census added a number of important businesses among which were banking and finance, motor transportation, real estate agencies, warehousing, insurance, and radio broadcasting. The types of business added in 1935 were dropped in 1939 along with a number of minor types of service business. The most significant changes in scope of the service phase of the 1948 Census of Business from the scope of the 1939 Census are exclusion (in whole or substantial part) of the 1939 Census groups entitled "Services Allied to Transportation," and "Custom Industries."

In addition to observing the changes in the coverage of establishments from censu to census, it is important to take cognizance of the kind of businesses, broadly defined not included in any Census of Business. Outstanding in this group are the busines activities of doctors, lawyers, dentists, and others performing a professional or scientifi service, educational institutions, religious or charitable institutions, hospital and infirmaries, public utilities, and government operated enterprises. In th past, these types of economic activity have been omitted largely because of problem in obtaining information or because reasonably adequate data were already availabl from other sources.

Many of the following tables contain comparative data from the various Censuse of Business. Adjustments have been made in the figures to make allowances for th changes in scope among the various years compared.

CURRENT STATISTICS

Wholesale trade.—Monthly statistics on wholesalers' sales and inventories, b kinds of business and by geographic divisions, are compiled and published by th Bureau of the Census. These data cover about 4,000 firms. Using these survey dat as a basis, monthly estimates of aggregate sales of wholesalers raised to national total are prepared by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce and published in th Survey of Current Business. The Census Bureau also publishes monthly statistics– November through July—on stocks of canned foods at the wholesale level. Inven tories at warehouses of retail food chains are included.

Financial statistics relating to corporations in wholesale trade are available fron the annual reports, Statistics of Income, published by the Bureau of Internal Revenue

Current data on the production, movement, stocks, carry-over, receipts, an disappearances at principal markets, etc., for major agricultural commodities ar available from the Production and Marketing Administration, Department o Agriculture.

As part of its investigations, the Federal Trade Commission has collected operatin statistics on wholesalers as well as on the wholesale business of chains in various lines Financial statistics on corporations engaged in wholesale trade whose securities ar listed on the national securities exchanges are available from the Securities and Exchang Commission.

Retail trade.—The Bureau of the Census compiles and publishes monthly statistic on trends in retail store sales, by kind of business, for the country as a whole an for selected large cities and other local areas; monthly data for all retail trade com bined are also provided for a large number of additional cities and local areas These data are based on reports from a sample of some 32,000 stores. The Censu Bureau also issues jointly with the Office of Business Economics of the Bureau o Foreign and Domestic Commerce monthly statistics on the trends and dollar volum of retail chain store and mail-order house sales nationally by kind of business. Monthly estimates of the dollar volume of retail sales by kind of business groups are prepare by the Office of Business Economics and are published currently in the Survey o Current Business.

Indexes of department store sales and stocks are compiled by the Board of Governor of the Federal Reserve System and by each of the 12 Federal Reserve Banks for it district. These indexes are published monthly in the Federal Reserve Bulletin an also in the Survey of Current Business. Monthly and annual statistics on consume credit are compiled by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System an published currently in the Federal Reserve Bulletin. Financial data for corporation engaged in retail trade and filing income tax returns are published by the Bureau o Internal Revenue in its annual report, Statistics of Income. Financial statistics o corporations engaged in retail trade whose securities are listed on the national securitie exchanges are available from the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Service trades.—Typical of the numerous current statistical reports on personal and business services compiled by private agencies are the Horwath Hotel Accountant, Printers Ink, and National Advertising Records. Financial statistics of service businesses derived from corporation income tax returns are compiled and published annually by the Bureau of Internal Revenue in its annual report, Statistics of Income. Current data on service trades are provided by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce in its quarterly and annual estimates of consumption expenditures published in the Survey of Current Business.

No. 1033.—Power Laundries, Cleaning and Dyeing Establishments, and Rug Cleaning Establishments—Summary: 1919 to 1948

[All money figures in thousands of dollars. Statistics for 1948 cover establishments reporting receipts of $500 or more; statistics for 1939 cover establishments reporting receipts of $100 or more; for preceding specified censur years statistics cover establishments reporting receipts of $5,000 or more. The Business Censuses of 1948 and 1939 classified establishments shown in this table as service establishments. (See also table 1032.) Statistics for 1935 and earlier years were compiled in connection with the Census of Manufactures. Rug cleaning was treated, in general, as an activity of the power laundry industry for 1929 and earlier years]

No. 1033.—Power Laundries, Cleaning and Dyeing Establishments, and Rug Cleaning Establishments—Summary: 1919 to 1948

[All money figures in thousands of dollars. Statistics for 1948 cover establishments reporting receipts of $500 or more; statistics for 1939 cover establishments reporting receipts of $100 or more; for preceding specified censur years statistics cover establishments reporting receipts of $5,000 or more. The Business Censuses of 1948 and 1939 classified establishments shown in this table as service establishments. (See also table 1032.) Statistics for 1935 and earlier years were compiled in connection with the Census of Manufactures. Rug cleaning was treated, in general, as an activity of the power laundry industry for 1929 and earlier years]

APPENDIX I

ises latest available figures for statistical time series shown in the historical supplement entitled Historical ics of the United States, 1789-1945. For 1946 figures, see table 1101 of 1949 Statistical Abstract; and for gures, see App. I, table A of 1950 Statistical Abstract. In some cases, figures incorporate revisions ed too late to make changes elsewhere in volume. Figures for 1950 are generally preliminary; 1948 and 1949 s are subject to revision. Historical series are listed only where data are available for a year later than 1947. sk (*) denotes series revised for earlier years; for revisions, see: App. I, table B; 1950 Abstract, App. I, B; and 1949 Abstract, table 1102. Numbers in boldface (as A 100) are series numbers from historical ement. "Abstract table No." gives number of table in this edition of the Statistical Abstract in which figures appear, usually with more detail than can be shown in this appendix. Where no "Abstract No." appears, the exactly corresponding series is not shown in this issue. "Earliest date" represents t year for which figures are shown in historical supplement. For general sources and qualifications of s, see Historical Statistics]

[1] Revised data. For annual revisions, 1915–47, see table 847, p. 707.

[2] Comprises substitute series for series H 40–46 for period beginning 1941 as shown in Historical Statistics. Whereas H 40a–46a exclude public temporary structures, series H 40–46 included such structures beginning 1941. Source: For 1930–1947, see Bureau of Labor Statistics, Bulletin 941, Construction and Housing, 1946–1947; for 1948 and later, see Monthly Labor Review and Construction, both published monthly by Bureau of Labor Statistics.

[3] Includes both private and public permanent units. Also includes prefabricated units. Excludes units in public temporary structures; also excludes conversions, dormitory accommodations, trailers, and military barracks. Estimates are based on building-permit records, which, beginning with 1945, have been adjusted for lapsed permits and for lag between permit issuance and start of construction. They are based also on reports of Federal construction contract awards and, beginning in 1946, on field surveys in nonpermit-issuing places.

[4] Private construction costs are based on building permit valuation, adjusted for understatement of costs shown in permit applications. Public construction costs are based on contract values or estimated construction costs for individual projects.

[5] Includes small amount of floor space reported for public works and utilities, not shown separately.

[5] Series not shown in Historical Statistics. Data are for the payroll period ending nearest the 15th of the month, and cover all site and off-site wage and salaried employees of private firms whose major activity is construction, but exclude self-employed construction workers, working proprietors, and force-account employees of nonconstruction firms and public agencies engaged in construction activities. Force-account employees are workers hired not through a contractor but directly by a business or government agency, and utilized as a separate work force to perform nonmaintenance construction work on the agency's own properties. Based currently upon monthly reports to the Bureau of Labor Statistics or to State agencies from a representative group of firms in each State. The base figure to which these monthly reports are applied are from unemployment compensation agencies and the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance. SOURCE: Same as for series H 40a–46a.
[6] Data for 1948 and 1949 are based on sample surveys in April of each year, conducted by Bureau of the Census in connection with monthly Current Population Survey. Data for 1950 are based on preliminary sample from 1950 Census. Nonfarm and farm figures are not shown because of change in definition. See text, p. 704.
[7] A "household," according to present usage of the Census Bureau, comprises all persons who occupy a dwelling unit, that is a house, an apartment or other group of rooms, or a room that constitutes "separate living quarters." The number of "households," thus defined, is the same as the number of "private households" or "families" as the latter two terms were used in the 1940 Census reports and in Historical Statistics.
[8] Housing figures for 1948 and 1949 are sample estimates subject to a sampling variation that is large in relation to the year-to-year changes presented, so that changes between successive years are not accurately reflected. The estimates are based on a national sample similar to the Current Population Survey sample described on p. 181.
[9] 1948 and 1949, estimated as of Apr. 1, including armed forces overseas; 1950, enumerated population as of Apr. 1, excluding armed forces overseas.

[1] All figures are monthly averages.

[2] Includes all officials and employees receiving any compensation except school board members.

[3] Series P 71a is a new series and is a substitute for series P 71–72 which are no longer available separately. For data prior to 1948 see table 222, p. 193.

[4] Series P 82a is a new series and is a substitute for series P 82–83 which are no longer available separately.

[5] Average for school term.

[6] Effective Jan. 3, 1949, amounts refunded by government, principally for overpayment of taxes, are being reported as deductions from total receipts rather than as expenditures. Also, effective July 1, 1948, payments by Treasury, principally by wholly owned Government corporations for retirement of capital stock and for disposition of earnings, have been excluded in reporting both budget receipts and expenditures.

[7] Series not shown in Historical Statistics. Net receipts equal total receipts (series P 89) less appropriations to Federal old-age and survivors insurance trust fund beginning 1937, and refunds of receipts beginning 1931. For figures covering years 1932 to 1947, see p. 305. Source: Annual Report of the Secretary of the Treasury.

[8] Not available separately.

[9] The practice of including statutory debt retirements in budget expenditures discontinued, effective 1948.

[10] Includes government corporations (wholly owned), etc.

[11] For comparability with earlier years, all transactions relating to Foreign Economic Cooperation Trust Fund (amounting to $3,000,000,000) have been consolidated with budget expenditures.

[12] Title changed pursuant to act of July 26, 1947: subsequently includes expenditures of Department of Air Force. Expenditures for Office of Secretary of Defense included in series P 103 and P 107.

[1] Comprises combined totals for all cities having 100,000 inhabitants or more in the 1940 census.
[2] Not available.
[3] Local shares of State-administered taxes, except any amounts locally collected and retained, are classified as State aid and the cities' shares of such taxes are included in aid received.
[4] Segregation not available; included in "other" capital outlay.

TABLE B.—REVISIONS IN HISTORICAL STATISTICS FOR 1947 AND EARLIER YEARS

[Series numbers are as shown in table A, this appendix, and in Historical Statistics of the United States, 1789-1945. Figures are as provided by source agencies. Revisions for 1947 and earlier years are probably incomplete. In some instances, figures are included to fill cells left blank in Historical Statistics because data were not available when that volume went to press. Revisions shown are in addition to those presented in table 1102, 1949 Abstract and App. I, table B, 1950 Abstract. To bring Historical Statistics to date, consult table below and table A of this appendix; appendix I, tables A and B, 1950 Abstract, and tables 1101 and 1102, 1949 Abstract. See also Errata Sheet No. 1 (dated Mar. 31, 1950), available on request]

Weights, measures, and foreign exchange

UNITED STATES UNITS WITH METRIC EQUIVALENTS

1 inch = 2.540 centimeters.
1 foot = 0.3048 meter.
1 yard = 0.9144 meter.
1 mile = 1.609 kilometers.
1 square yard = 0.8361 square meter.
1 acre = 0.4047 hectare.
1 square mile = 2.590 square kilometers.
1 cubic inch = 16.39 cubic centimeters.
1 cubic foot = 0.02832 cubic meter.
1 cubic yard = 0.7646 cubic meter.
1 liquid quart = 0.9463 liter.
1 gallon = 231 cubic inches = 3.785 liters.
1 bushel (measured) = 2,150.4 cubic inches = 35.24 liters.
1 avoirdupois ounce = 28.35 grams.
1 troy ounce = 31.10 grams.
1 pound = 0.4536 kilogram.
1 long ton = 2,240 pounds = 1.0160 metric tons of 1,000 kilograms.
1 short ton = 2,000 pounds = 0.9072 metric ton.

UNITED STATES GALLON AND BUSHEL WITH BRITISH EQUIVALENTS

1 United States gallon = 231 cubic inches = 0.8331 imperial gallon.

1 United States bushel = 2,150.4 cubic inches = 0.9694 imperial bushel.

APPROXIMATE WEIGHT OF PETROLEUM AND PRODUCTS

In the United States petroleum and its products are measured by bulk, not weight. Whether handled in containers or without them the quantities are customarily reduced to the equivalent of barrels of 42 United States gallons (barrel thus equals 158.984 liters). In many foreign countries these commodities are measured by weight. The specific gravity of the different grades of crude petroleum and of the finished products varies materially. On the basis of approximate averages the Department of Commerce in converting foreign weight statistics to gallons or barrels of 42 gallons uses the factors shown in the following table:

	WEIGHT OF UNITED STATES GALLON		WEIGHT OF BARREL OF 42 GALLONS
	Pounds	Kilograms	Pounds	Kilograms
Crude petroleum	7.3	3.311	306.6	139.07
Lubricating oils	7.0	3.175	294.0	133.36
Illuminating oils (kerosene)	6.6	2.994	277.2	125.74
Gasoline and related products (motor spirit, benzine, etc.)	6.1	2.767	256.2	116.21
Fuel and gas oils	7.7	3.493	323.4	146.69

BIBLIOGRAPHY OF SOURCES OF STATISTICAL DATA

This bibliography contains under the various subject headings references to the important primary sources of statistical information for the United States. Secondary sources have been referred to if the information contained therein is presented in a particularly convenient form or if primary sources are not readily available. One-time studies presenting compilations or estimates for several years or new types of data not available in regular series are included.

Much valuable information will also be found in State reports and in reports for particular commodities, industries, or similar segments of our economic and social structure. However, because of the large number of such references, they are not included here.

Section references on the right-hand side of each page indicate where data from the report cited appear in the Statistical Abstract. Where current reports and a summary volume are both cited in the bibliography the section reference will often appear opposite the summary volume only. Reference to the sections indicated will enable the user to ascertain the type of information presented in the original source. However, it should not be assumed that all of the subjects from that source are summarized in the Abstract.

The location of the publisher of the report is given except for Federal governmental agencies located in Washington. Major inquiries, such as the Census of Population, are referred to by name rather than by specific volume references under the various topic headings. The final reports of the Sixteenth Census, which include those on the Censuses of Agriculture, Business, Manufactures, Mineral Industries, Population, and Housing, are listed at the end of the bibliography.
